RED SMASH AT PUSAN IMMINENT

Russia Unveils Peace Formula

Demands U.N. Order Yanks Out Of Korea

'Hypocrisy' Charge Sounded By Austin

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 4 (AP) — With a threat to use the veto, the Soviet Union demanded today that the United Nations order American troops out of Korea and seat the North Koreans in Security Council deliberations.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, accused Russia's Jakob A. Malik of conducting a shell game, ful of "hypocrisy," in his conduct as council president. Austin asserted Malik is playing the council "around and around the squirrel cage," and said the demand for withdrawal of troops is against all reason.

Malik introduced the Soviet Union's Korean peace plan at the start of today's Security Council session. Austin attacked it as a deviation from the business at hand. He and Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said only the Republic of Korea—the South Koreans—belong at the council table. They made it clear the Russian proposals would be rejected by a majority when the council resumes sessions next Tuesday.

Way To End Red Tactics

Austin sounded his "hypocrisy" charge outside the council, telling reporters after the session there is a way—he did not name it—to end Malik's tactics. The former Vermont Senator added he did not see how the council could continue with "obstructionist cunning tactics—the kind of under-this-shell now, under-that-shell then, game that is being played."

The pending business at the start of today's meeting was an American resolution for the council to condemn the North Koreans in defying a cease-fire, and to call upon all nations to boycott them.

Malik's resolution would counter the U. S. proposal. The Malik plan read:

"The Security Council

"Decides

"(A) To consider it necessary, in the course of the discussion of the Korean question, to invite the representative of the People's Republic of China and also to hear the representatives of the Korean people;

USSR Used Veto 43 Times

"(B) To put an end to the hostilities in Korea and at the same time to withdraw foreign troops from Korea."

Backing this resolution, Malik said the Soviet Union regards the question of inviting representatives of the Korean people as a matter of substance.

This is a way the Russians have of insisting on the right to use their veto, which they have done 43 times since the U. N. was founded.

The council adjourned at 4:38 p. m. E.S.T. until 2 p. m. Tuesday. It still must decide on hearing the North Koreans and on what, if anything, to do about its previous invitation to the South Koreans.

IN CAPITOL ROW — Rep. Henderson Lanham (top), (D-Ga.), poses after rushing and swearing at William J. Patterson (bottom), executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, at a House Lobby Investigating Committee meeting yesterday. As he shouted an epithet, Lanham doubled his fists and raced toward Patterson, who had just swapped accusations with him. Capitol police restrained the Congressman.

Lanham, Witness Exchange Words

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Rep. Lanham (D-Ga) shouted an epithet at the negro executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress today and rushed at him with doubled fists.

Two husky Capitol policemen held Lanham back as he struggled to reach the target of his wrath, William J. Patterson, during a bitter exchange at which they accused each other of telling a lie.

Lanham was presiding, at the time, at a hearing of the House Lobbying Investigating Committee on affairs of the Civil Rights Congress, which the Attorney General has listed as a subversive communist front organization.

The committee promptly adjourned to consider at a closed session next week whether to cite Patterson for contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions about membership and financing of his organization.

Korea Reds Apparently Have New Commander

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—An announcement indicating that the North Koreans have a new commanding general has been made by the red radio at Seoul, a U. S. Defense Department spokesman said today.

The radio said on July 31 that Gen. Kim Chaek had become commander-in-chief, according to information received by defense officials here.

Briefing officers said Kim had been the second ranking red Korean general. Apparently he succeeded Marshall Choe Yonggun.

Carrier Sets Record For Pacific Crossing

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4 (AP) — The aircraft carrier Boxer, speeding home from an emergency fighter plane ferrying trip to the Far East, arrived here today, setting a spectacular Pacific crossing record of seven days, 18 hours, 36 minutes.

Capt. Cameron Briggs, who took command of the 27,000-ton flattop only 30 hours before she sailed from San Francisco Bay for Japan July 14, would not give the exact mileage on the return trip. He said it was "slightly under 5,000 miles." He meant nautical miles. (To convert to land miles, add 15 per cent.)

House Tosses Out Mandatory Controls Plan

Legislation Bogs Down In Confusion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House voted today to make hoarding a prison offense, but then bogged down in confusion and put off until next week a showdown vote on legislation to prevent war inflation.

On the other side of the Capitol, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) announced that the Senate Banking Committee had approved the idea of giving President Truman discretionary authority in invoking wage-price-rationing controls.

He said the committee rejected, 10 to 3, a plan by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) for automatic wage, price, rationing controls if prices rise to a certain point, say six per cent above the level of June 15.

The President has come out against such mandatory legislation but has indicated he has no objection to discretionary authority.

Confusing Situation

Still very much up in the air tonight was the question what kind of economic control legislation Congress will finally adopt.

In a dizzy parliamentary tangle, the House tossed overboard a previously approved plan calling for mandatory price-wage ceilings if prices continue to rise; then it voted twice against handing the President discretionary price-wage control powers.

Toward the end of the day, Rep. Short (R-Mo) summed up the situation by telling a reporter:

"I've never seen so much confusion on a bill—Republicans and Democrats alike."

When the House quit work for the day, it was considering still another wage-price control amendment tied to the cost-of-living index.

Compromise Proposal

This proposal, by Rep. McKinnon (D-Calif), would give the President discretionary power to invoke wage-price ceilings. But if the cost of living rose five per cent above the June 15 level, the controls would become mandatory and prices and wages would be rolled back to the June 10-25 period.

Administration strategy in the House apparently is directed toward adoption of the Truman bill as it emerged from the Banking Committee. Briefly it provides standby powers covering priorities and allocations, credit and market speculation; the right to requisition plants for defense, and to guarantee loans for plant expansion.

The Truman bill omits provisions for price and wage controls and specifically prohibits rationing at the retail level.

Aerial Honeymoon Ends In Tragedy

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP) — An aerial honeymoon ended tonight in the death of a young Pennsylvanian and the critical injury of his bride.

Angelo Guzzo, 23, died 15 minutes after his light plane crashed on a mountain ridge 18 miles southeast of Greensburg.

His bride, the former Phyllis Pushkar, 20, is in critical condition at a Mount Pleasant hospital. She has a possible fractured skull.

The couple lived at Canonsburg, Pa.

Plane Loses Wing, Stunt Flier Killed

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 4 (AP) — Gene Griffin, 37, Zanesville, well-known stunt flier, was killed tonight when a wing tore loose from his light plane 100 feet above the ground and his parachute failed to open.

Griffin, manager and flight instructor at Riverside airport four miles north of here, had just taken off on a practice flight when the right wing tore loose. The plane crashed and burned.

Former Rep. May Is Refused Parole

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — Former Rep. Andrew May (D-Ky) today was turned down on his appeal for a parole from Federal prison.

The one-time chairman of the important House Military Affairs Committee had served eight of his eight to 24-months sentence for bribery and conspiracy in connection with World War II munitions contracts.

"Missing" GI Is Recruit In Red "Fight For Peace"

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two Allied soldiers with poor service records were introduced to the German press in communist-ruled East Berlin today as recruits in the communist "fight for peace."

Gerhart Eisler, fugitive from the United States who is the Soviet zone propaganda chief, presented the soldiers—one and American and the other English—at a news conference to which he had invited only German newsmen.

The soldiers—Robert Natskakula, American, and John Keith Waller, English—read prepared statements announcing their desire to live and work in the Soviet zone. Eisler said they have been given residence and work permits. Both appeared in uniform.

U. S. Army officials said a private named Natskakula, of Natrona, Pa., has been missing from Headquarters Company, 16th Infantry, since April 17. He had three court-martial demerits and had been cited for a dishonorable discharge when he vanished, officials said.

A British spokesman said Robert K. Waller, 20, a corporal of Essex, England, has been missing from the 91st British Supply Depot in Berlin since May 15. He has a German girl friend in East Berlin. British authorities said he is "a bad actor with a bad record."

Six States Will Gain House Seats, Eight Will Lose

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Tentative 1950 population figures indicate six states will gain seats in the House of Representatives, while eight will lose.

Although the final population figures the Census Bureau will furnish to President Truman in December may change things slightly, the outlook is that:

Seat gains will be: Seven for California, two for Florida and one each for Maryland, Michigan, Texas and Washington.

Losses will be: Three for Pennsylvania, two each for New York, Oklahoma and Missouri—President Truman's home state, and one each for Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky and Mississippi.

No more precise determinations are possible now because the preliminary state population figures will be changed by the allocation of some 700,000 persons enumerated away from their homes, chiefly members of ships' crews.

The seat changes are to take effect beginning with the 83rd Congress, which will take office in January 1953.

Tire Retail Prices Hiked By Goodyear

AKRON, O., Aug. 4 (AP) — Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. today increased prices on passenger, truck and farm tires and on tubes made of natural rubber.

Effective today the company raised the retail price on all passenger tires five per cent, on all truck tires seven and a half per cent, and on all farm tires five per cent.

Inner tubes made of natural rubber went up between 10 per cent and 20 per cent, depending on their sizes.

Army Will Call Up 62,000 Reserves This Fall; Navy Adds Year To Enlistments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Army said today it will call up 62,000 reserves in September and October, and the Navy said it is adding another 12 months to the enlistments of those in the Navy or naval reserves. Both orders deal with enlisted men.

This topped a day of military developments which included:

1. A request by President Truman that Congress vote another $950,000,000 worth of naval planes. The total amount of additional military funds asked for by President Truman since the Korean war has now passed the $15,600,000,000 mark.

2. The Military Sea Transport Service announced that to date it has chartered 78 U. S. flag ships and 13 foreign vessels to move troops and supplies. Another 105 vessels in the reserve fleet have been reactivated.

Jap Enlistments Proposed

3. Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) proposed that the armed services open their ranks to voluntary enlistment of Japanese.

As for the Navy enlisted men, the Navy said its order would apply to regular Navy and naval reserve enlisted personnel.

As for the Army enlisted men, the call will be limited to men who are not in regular reserve units.

Furthermore, the Army said, it will screen all reservists so that it can weed out communist sympathizers.

The purpose of the call: To fill National Guard and reserve units to their full strength.

Men 19-25 Get First Call

The Army has about 185,000 men who are not in organized reserve corps units, and more than a third of these will be called up.

The first 32,000 will be in camp by Sept. 15. A month later, they all will be there.

Those between 19 and 25 years old will be called first. Men having no dependents will be first in line, followed by those with one dependent, and, finally, by those having more than one.

The action was one more step in a plan to put an additional 600,000 men in the armed services.

Snowball Battle With Mercury 90

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 4 (AP)—The neighbors rubbed their eyes, examined their thermometers (which registered about 90) and looked again at the scene.

Yes, they were right: The Mahaffey boys were having a snowball fight. And in August.

Bruce, 10, and Bill, 12, made the snowballs last winter and preserved them in their mother's home freezer.

McCarthy Hurls Dare At Tydings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) demanded today that Sen. Tydings (D-Md) be forced to play a phonograph record to show which of them is "a liar."

The record is one that Tydings offered to play in the Senate last July 20 in a searing speech branding McCarthy's communism-in-government charges a "fraud and a hoax."

McCarthy said Tydings claimed the record would show that the Wisconsin Republican said in a speech at Wheeling, W. Va., last February that there were 205 communists in the State Department who were known to Secretary of State Acheson.

This has been denied by McCarthy, and he reiterated in the Senate again today that he said he knew of 57 communists in the department.

Pact Council Agrees Defenses Inadequate

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The civilian directors of the 12-nation North Atlantic alliance wound up a 10-day meeting here today convinced the overall defense of the whole area must be strengthened rapidly.

A communique announced that finding. It said the group, known as the Council of Deputies, is adjourning for 18 days to consult the home governments "in order to further plans for the increase of forces which shall be accomplished in the near future."

Informants in touch with the conferees said the group agreed the West's existing defenses were quite inadequate in light of the present international situation.

Another Attempt To Cut Marshall Plan Funds Fails

34 Billion Measure OK'd On Voice Vote

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Senate approved a huge $34,237,000,000 appropriations bill today on a voice vote.

It took the action after it had rejected another attempt to trim the amount of money this country would spend on Marshall Plan operations.

The recommended appropriations would finance most federal government operations for the year ending next June 30.

The amount is subject to change in a Senate-House conference which will be called shortly to iron out the differences in the bills passed separately by both houses.

The attempt by Sen. McClellan (D-Aak), to whack five per cent off the $2,726,761,475 Marshall Plan for economic aid for Western Europe was defeated 41 to 38.

14 Billions For Military

As finally approved, the bill carries $14,680,000,000 in cash and spending authority for the armed services. This does not include about $16,500,000,000 recently requested by President Truman for military outlays in connection with the Korean war.

In addition to the regular military funds, the bill carried $4,590,000,000 in cash and spending authority for all foreign aid, including $2,726,000,000 for the European recovery program.

The proposed Marshall Plan cut would have amounted to $136,338,073.

It was the second time in two days, however, that the foreign economic aid fund had survived a proposed reduction. The Senate yesterday voted to exempt the Marshall Plan from a 10 per cent reduction which was applied to most other non-military expenditures.

Coast Guard Funds Intact

The bill provides money to run scores of government bureaus and departments during the fiscal year that started July 1. Interest on the public debt and certain other recurring, non-deferrable operating costs are excluded from the one-package bill.

In other actions on the big bill, the Senate specifically exempted the Coast Guard from the 10 per cent non-military cut approved yesterday, and adopted an amendment by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) to permit deficiency appropriations to be made, if necessary, for the transportation of mail.

Committee OKs Tax Law Changes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved tax law revisions increasing federal revenues about $144,000,000, including a crackdown on "collapsible corporations" when used for tax evasion.

But the group rejected House-approved revisions that would have picked-up an additional $176,000,000. President Truman has requested Congress to provide a quick increase of $5,000,000,000 in new revenue to help meet war and preparedness costs. This is what the committee is working on.

A vigorous battle lies ahead on the question whether to impose now or later an excess profits tax to prevent "profiteering" in the defense boom.

None of the tax law revisions acted upon by the Finance Committee today dealt with direct individual or corporation income taxes. They were mostly technical changes.

North Korean Forces Move Up For Attack

Showdown Battle May Start Today

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP) — North Korean troops today were expected to loose an all-out smash on the southern front aimed at Pusan, the beachhead port 35 miles east of the quiet battle line.

The U. S. Eighth Army, charged with holding the Southeast Korean beachhead until a counteroffensive can be launched, reported this development in a communique.

It said there were "unconfirmed reports" that indicated "the enemy may launch an attack east of Chinju today." Chinju is 55 miles west of Pusan.

Patrols from the U. S. 25th Infantry Division moved out aggressively on this front, and were in continuous contact with the enemy, the communique said.

Red Divisions Move Up

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters earlier said two more Red divisions were moving up for the attack on the southern front.

Northward, the North Koreans were moving up to the last-ditch Naktong River defense line, which curls to within seven miles of Taegu. This is the frontline supply city 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

The Eighth Army communique said neither the 24th Infantry nor the First Cavalry Division had made any important patrol contact with the enemy on that front.

This indicated that the North Koreans were surprised by the abrupt U. S. and South Korean withdrawal behind the river, and had not yet brought up sizable forces.

South Korean covering forces on the northern front were being forced back steadily by enemy pressure the communique said.

The main body of the South Koreans were digging in on stout positions in the hills back of the Naktonk River 35 miles or more north and northeast of Taegu.

Carrier Planes Lash Reds

Marine carrier-based planes for the second straight day yesterday lashed at enemy troops and transportation targets on the southern front, a Navy release said.

Four towns were burned out. Two bridges and eight anti-aircraft batteries were badly damaged in the Chinju area. The Marine fighters rained bombs, rockets and bullets on the targets.

A sharp, U. S. counterattack Thursday checked the Red drive temporarily on the southern front about 20 miles east on Chinju. The enemy was hurled back, leaving a counted 600 dead on the field.

There was no letup in the Red pressure, however, on that doorway to Pusan.

Bracing for the main battle that was sure to come, the Americans hurried up reinforcements of elements of the First Marine and Second Infantry Divisions to undisclosed places at the front.

Chinese Red March On Tibet Promised

HONG KONG, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP) — Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, commander of the Chinese Communist Second Field Army, has announced flatly that red troops soon "will march into Tibet," the red press said today.

The announcement, carried by the pro-communist Chinese language newspaper Wen Wei Pao, was represented as part of a lengthy report to the communists' southwest military and administrative committee which ended a five-day meeting in Chungking July 31.

Okla. Recount Ordered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 4 (AP) — A recount of all votes cast in the July 25 Democratic governor's runoff election was ordered today by the State Supreme Court.

The decision followed an all-day conference. It was a victory for William O. Coe, who lost to Johnston Murray by 1,009 votes.

Texan Off In Year's First Attempt To Swim Channel

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP)—Roy Sutter, 33, Denison, Tex., set off at 12:57 a. m. today (6:57 p. m. EST Friday) in the year's first attempt to swim the English Channel.

Sutter, a professional swimming instructor, said he expected to make the crossing in about 18 hours. He arrived from Britain shortly after midnight. Sutter had been in training at Dover, Eng.

Sutter stood ankle deep in the chilly channel waters as he was being greased by Philip Mickman, English schoolboy who swam the channel last year and who has been the Texan's trainer. Sutter said conditions for his attempt were favorable, with practically no wind.

Sutter is the first of some 50 swimmers expected to have a try at the channel this year. On hand to see him off was Murat Guler, husky Turk who has been training in France and who twice this week called off his plans to swim the channel.

Russia Unveils Peace Formula

Demands U.N. Order Yanks Out Of Korea

'Hypocrisy' Charge Sounded By Austin

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 4 (AP) — With a threat to use the veto, the Soviet Union demanded today that the United Nations order American troops out of Korea and seat the North Koreans in Security Council deliberations.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, accused Russia's Jakob A. Malik of conducting a shell game, ful of "hypocrisy," in his conduct as council president. Austin asserted Malik is playing the council "around and around the squirrel cage," and said the demand for withdrawal of troops is against all reason.

Malik introduced the Soviet Union's Korean peace plan at the start of today's Security Council session. Austin attacked it as a deviation from the business at hand. He and Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said only the Republic of Korea—the South Koreans—belong at the council table. They made it clear the Russian proposals would be rejected by a majority when the council resumes sessions next Tuesday.

Way To End Red Tactics

Austin sounded his "hypocrisy" charge outside the council, telling reporters after the session there is a way—he did not name it—to end Malik's tactics. The former Vermont Senator added he did not see how the council could continue with "obstructionist cunning tactics—the kind of under-this-shell now, under-that-shell then, game that is being played."

The pending business at the start of today's meeting was an American resolution for the council to condemn the North Koreans in defying a cease-fire, and to call upon all nations to boycott them.

Malik's resolution would counter the U. S. proposal. The Malik plan read:

"The Security Council

"Decides

"(A) To consider it necessary, in the course of the discussion of the Korean question, to invite the representative of the People's Republic of China and also to hear the representatives of the Korean people;

USSR Used Veto 43 Times

"(B) To put an end to the hostilities in Korea and at the same time to withdraw foreign troops from Korea."

Backing this resolution, Malik said the Soviet Union regards the question of inviting representatives of the Korean people as a matter of substance.

This is a way the Russians have of insisting on the right to use their veto, which they have done 43 times since the U. N. was founded.

The council adjourned at 4:38 p. m. E.S.T. until 2 p. m. Tuesday. It still must decide on hearing the North Koreans and on what, if anything, to do about its previous invitation to the South Koreans.

House Tosses Out Mandatory Controls Plan

Losses will be: Three for Pennsylvania, two each for New York, Oklahoma and Missouri—President Truman's home state, and one each for Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky and Mississippi.

No more precise determinations are possible now because the preliminary state population figures will be changed by the allocation of some 700,000 persons enumerated away from their homes, chiefly members of ships' crews.

The seat changes are to take effect beginning with the 83rd Congress, which will take office in January 1953.

Tire Retail Prices Hiked By Goodyear

AKRON, O., Aug. 4 (AP) — Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. today increased prices on passenger, truck and farm tires and on tubes made of natural rubber.

Effective today the company raised the retail price on all passenger tires five per cent, on all truck tires seven and a half per cent, and on all farm tires five per cent.

Inner tubes made of natural rubber went up between 10 per cent and 20 per cent, depending on their sizes.

Army Will Call Up 62,000 Reserves This Fall; Navy Adds Year To Enlistments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Army said today it will call up 62,000 reserves in September and October, and the Navy said it is adding another 12 months to the enlistments of those in the Navy or naval reserves. Both orders deal with enlisted men.

This topped a day of military developments which included:

1. A request by President Truman that Congress vote another $950,000,000 worth of naval planes. The total amount of additional mlitary funds asked for by President Truman since the Korean war has now passed the $15,600,000,000 mark.

2. The Military Sea Transport Service announced that to date it has chartered 78 U. S. flag ships and 13 foreign vessels to move troops and supplies. Another 105 vessels in the reserve fleet have been reactivated.

Jap Enlistments Proposed

3. Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) proposed that the armed services open their ranks to voluntary enlistment of Japanese.

As for the Navy enlisted men, the Navy said its order would apply to regular Navy and naval reserve enlisted personnel.

As for the Army enlisted men, the call will be limited to men who are not in regular reserve units.

Furthermore, the Army said, it will screen all reservists so that it can weed out communist sympathizers.

The purpose of the call: To fill National Guard and reserve units to their full strength.

Men 19-25 Get First Call

The Army has about 185,000 men who are not in organized reserve corps units, and more than a third of these will be called up.

The first 32,000 will be in camp by Sept. 15. A month later, they all will be there.

Those between 19 and 25 years old will be called first. Men having no dependents will be first in line, followed by those with one dependent, and, finally, by those having more than one.

The action was one more step in a plan to put an additional 600,000 men in the armed services.

Snowball Battle With Mercury 90

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 4 (AP)—The neighbors rubbed their eyes, examined their thermometers (which registered about 90) and looked again at the scene.

Yes, they were right: The Mahaffey boys were having a snowball fight. And in August.

Bruce, 10, and Bill, 12, made the snowballs last winter and preserved them in their mother's home freezer.

McCarthy Hurls Dare At Tydings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) demanded today that Sen. Tydings (D-Md) be forced to play a phonograph record to show which of them is "a liar."

The record is one that Tydings offered to play in the Senate last July 20 in a searing speech branding McCarthy's communism-in-government charges a "fraud and a hoax."

McCarthy said Tydings claimed the record would show that the Wisconsin Republican said in a speech at Wheeling, W. Va., last February that there were 205 communists in the State Department who were known to Secretary of State Acheson.

This has been denied by McCarthy, and he reiterated in the Senate again today that he said he knew of 57 communists in the department.

Another Attempt To Cut Marshall Plan Funds Fails

34 Billion Measure OK'd On Voice Vote

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Senate approved a huge $34,237,000,000 appropriations bill today on a voice vote.

It took the action after it had rejected another attempt to trim the amount of money this country would spend on Marshall Plan operations.

The recommended appropriations would finance most federal government operations for the year ending next June 30.

The amount is subject to change in a Senate-House conference which will be called shortly to iron out the differences in the bills passed separately by both houses.

The attempt by Sen. McClellan (D-Aak), to whack five per cent off the $2,726,761,475 Marshall Plan for economic aid for Western Europe was defeated 41 to 38.

14 Billions For Military

As finally approved, the bill carries $14,680,000,000 in cash and spending authority for the armed services. This does not include about $16,500,000,000 recently requested by President Truman for military outlays in connection with the Korean war.

In addition to the regular military funds, the bill carried $4,590,000,000 in cash and spending authority for all foreign aid, including $2,726,000,000 for the European recovery program.

The proposed Marshall Plan cut would have amounted to $136,338,073.

It was the second time in two days, however, that the foreign economic aid fund had survived a proposed reduction. The Senate yesterday voted to exempt the Marshall Plan from a 10 per cent reduction which was applied to most other non-military expenditures.

Coast Guard Funds Intact

The bill provides money to run scores of government bureaus and departments during the fiscal year that started July 1. Interest on the public debt and certain other recurring, non-deferrable operating costs are excluded from the one-package bill.

In other actions on the big bill, the Senate specifically exempted the Coast Guard from the 10 per cent non-military cut approved yesterday, and adopted an amendment by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) to permit deficiency appropriations to be made, if necessary, for the transportation of mail.

Committee OKs Tax Law Changes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved tax law revisions increasing federal revenues about $144,000,000, including a crackdown on "collapsible corporations" when used for tax evasion.

But the group rejected House-approved revisions that would have picked-up an additional $176,000,000. President Truman has requested Congress to provide a quick increase of $5,000,000,000 in new revenue to help meet war and preparedness costs. This is what the committee is working on.

A vigorous battle lies ahead on the question whether to impose now or later an excess profits tax to prevent "profiteering" in the defense boom.

None of the tax law revisions acted upon by the Finance Committee today dealt with direct individual or corporation income taxes. They were mostly technical changes.

Pact Council Agrees Defenses Inadequate

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The civilian directors of the 12-nation North Atlantic alliance wound up a 10-day meeting here today convinced the overall defense of the whole area must be strengthened rapidly.

A communique announced that finding. It said the group, known as the Council of Deputies, is adjourning for 18 days to consult the home governments "in order to further plans for the increase of forces which shall be accomplished in the near future."

Informants in touch with the conferees said the group agreed the West's existing defenses were quite inadequate in light of the present international situation.

North Korean Forces Move Up For Attack

Showdown Battle May Start Today

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP) — North Korean troops today were expected to loose an all-out smash on the southern front aimed at Pusan, the beachhead port 35 miles east of the quiet battle line.

The U. S. Eighth Army, charged with holding the Southeast Korean beachhead until a counteroffensive can be launched, reported this development in a communique.

It said there were "unconfirmed reports" that indicated "the enemy may launch an attack east of Chinju today." Chinju is 55 miles west of Pusan.

Patrols from the U. S. 25th Infantry Division moved out aggressively on this front, and were in continuous contact with the enemy, the communique said.

Red Divisions Move Up

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters earlier said two more Red divisions were moving up for the attack on the southern front.

Northward, the North Koreans were moving up to the last-ditch Naktong River defense line, which curls to within seven miles of Taegu. This is the frontline supply city 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

The Eighth Army communique said neither the 24th Infantry nor the First Cavalry Division had made any important patrol contact with the enemy on that front.

This indicated that the North Koreans were surprised by the abrupt U. S. and South Korean withdrawal behind the river, and had not yet brought up sizable forces.

South Korean covering forces on the northern front were being forced back steadily by enemy pressure the communique said.

The main body of the South Koreans were digging in on stout positions in the hills back of the Naktonk River 35 miles or more north and northeast of Taegu.

Carrier Planes Lash Reds

Marine carrier-based planes for the second straight day yesterday lashed at enemy troops and transportation targets on the southern front, a Navy release said.

Four towns were burned out. Two bridges and eight anti-aircraft batteries were badly damaged in the Chinju area. The Marine fighters rained bombs, rockets and bullets on the targets.

A sharp, U. S. counterattack Thursday checked the Red drive temporarily on the southern front about 20 miles east on Chinju. The enemy was hurled back, leaving a counted 600 dead on the field.

There was no letup in the Red pressure, however, on that doorway to Pusan.

Bracing for the main battle that was sure to come, the Americans hurried up reinforcements of elements of the First Marine and Second Infantry Divisions to undisclosed places at the front.

Chinese Red March On Tibet Promised

HONG KONG, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP) — Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, commander of the Chinese Communist Second Field Army, has announced flatly that red troops soon "will march into Tibet," the red press said today.

The announcement, carried by the pro-communist Chinese language newspaper Wen Wei Pao, was represented as part of a lengthy report to the communists' southwest military and administrative committee which ended a five-day meeting in Chungking July 31.

Okla. Recount Ordered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 4 (AP) — A recount of all votes cast in the July 25 Democratic governor's runoff election was ordered today by the State Supreme Court.

The decision followed an all-day conference. It was a victory for William O. Coe, who lost to Johnston Murray by 1,009 votes.

"Missing" GI Is Recruit In Red "Fight For Peace"

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two Allied soldiers with poor service records were introduced to the German press in communist-ruled East Berlin today as recruits in the communist "fight for peace."

Gerhart Eisler, fugitive from the United States who is the Soviet zone propaganda chief, presented the soldiers—one and American and the other English—at a news conference to which he had invited only German newsmen.

The soldiers—Robert Natskakula, American, and John Keith Waller, English—read prepared statements announcing their desire to live and work in the Soviet zone. Eisler said they have been given residence and work permits. Both appeared in uniform.

U. S. Army officials said a private named Natskakula, of Natrona, Pa., has been missing from Headquarters Company, 16th Infantry, since April 17. He had three court-martial demerits and had been cited for a dishonorable discharge when he vanished, officials said.

A British spokesman said Robert K. Waller, 20, a corporal of Essex, England, has been missing from the 91st British Supply Depot in Berlin since May 15. He has a German girl friend in East Berlin. British authorities said he is "a bad actor with a bad record."

Texan Off In Year's First Attempt To Swim Channel

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Saturday, Aug. 5 (AP)—Roy Sutter, 33, Denison, Tex., set off at 12:57 a. m. today (6:57 p. m. EST Friday) in the year's first attempt to swim the English Channel.

Sutter, a professional swimming instructor, said he expected to make the crossing in about 18 hours. He arrived from Britain shortly after midnight. Sutter had been in training at Dover, Eng.

Sutter stood ankle deep in the chilly channel waters as he was being greased by Philip Mickman, English schoolboy who swam the channel last year and who has been the Texan's trainer. Sutter said conditions for his attempt were favorable, with practically no wind.

Sutter is the first of some 50 swimmers expected to have a try at the channel this year. On hand to see him off was Murat Guler, husky Turk who has been training in France and who twice this week called off his plans to swim the channel.

Reece Winner In Tenn. Voting

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4. (AP)—Carroll Reece, former Republican national chairman, apparently has cleared the major hurdle in his bid to return to Congress.

On the basis of nearly complete unofficial returns from yesterday's primary, he won the GOP nomination for Congress in East Tennessee's traditionally Republican First District.

Unofficial returns from all but 26 of the district's 295 precincts in the Republican primary showed Reece held 29,763 votes to 27,979 for Rep. Dayton Phillips.

In the Second district, also strongly Republican, Rep. John Jennings was defeated by a two-to-one margin in the Republican primary by Howard H. Baker, who was backed by Reece forces.

Tennesseans voted without a poll tax requirement in both Democratic and Republican primaries yesterday. The poll tax restriction was imposed in 1890 but the 1949 legislature lifted it from primaries.

In the statewide Democratic primary Gov. Gordon Browning, who made a comeback for governor in 1948 over the opposition of political leader E. H. Crump of Memphis, won renomination, equivalent to re-election in Tennessee.

Md. Has Surplus Of $7,400,000

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Maryland had $7,400,000 left over at the end of the last fiscal year and is figuring on at least $81,400,000 for this year's general funds operations.

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported today that the general fund surplus exceeded previous estimates by $1,700,741.

The exact general fund surplus was $7,448,391.

This brought to $81,401,719 the amount of general fund revenues expected to be available for the 1951 fiscal year. The figure includes $73,153,328 in estimated revenues and an $800,000 transfer from the annuity bond fund.

For the 1951 fiscal year the net authorized appropriations from the general fund total $79,840,699. On that basis the surplus next June 30 would be $1,561,020.

Mahoney Urges Voters 'Turn Out Spendthrifts'

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP) — "We must go to the polls and turn out the spendthrifts who have put us in our present predicament," George P. Mahoney declared today.

Mahoney, Gov. Lane's chief opponent for the Democratic nomination for governor, told a businessman's luncheon excessive borrowing under Lane's administration has placed Maryland's credit rating in jeopardy.

"It is public knowledge," the candidate charged "that Mr. Lane and his jobholder cohorts intend to step up the piling of debt on debt in Maryland and debt interest charges will become a possible $25,000,000 if the state is permitted to continue its heedless borrowing and spending plans."

Wiegand Is Board Candidate

William H. Wiegand, LaVale, is among the candidates for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the September primary election.

Wiegand is a native of Cumberland, a son of the late Henry and Margaret Shaffer Wiegand, and has a wide circle of friends in this section. It is the first time he has sought political office.

Following his education in the public schools Wiegand was employed as a salesman for 30 years by the National Biscuit Company, and at present is a salesman for Earl H. Morris, wholesale drugs.

Wiegand assisted in organizing the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department in 1932, and has remained active in its affairs. He has also been associated in affairs of the Independent Retail Food Dealers Association of Western Maryland and Cumberland Council No. 179, United Commercial Travelers.

Wiegand is married to the former Mayme Hendrickson.

Tydings Introduces Bill For Parkway

Senator Millard E. Tydings yesterday introduced into the U. S. Senate a bill authorizing the construction of a parkway along the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Cumberland to Washington.

It is the same bill previously introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. J. Glenn Beall.

Earlier this week the House Public Lands Committee approved a provision to allow the federal government to trade land with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in Cumberland. The government needs some railroad land for the parkway and the railroad needs some government-owned land for the development of its local yards.

Members To Finish Outdoor Club House

Finishing touches on a new clubhouse at their game refuge on the Potomac River 26 miles from here will be done by members of the Cumberland Outdoor Club tomorrow.

Lee Fuller, secretary, said transportation will leave Gehauf's Service station, Park Street, Sunday at 9 a.m.

The 30 by 40-foot concrete block structure is under roof, he said, and work to be completed includes installation of door sills and windows.

The building has a main room with a large fireplace and bunks and a kitchen.

Intruder Fails In Safe Cracking Try

An intruder failed in his attempt to break into the safe at Raupach's Garage yesterday morning, according to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn.

Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, reported that the culprit had sawed off the dials and handles of the safe with a hacksaw. He then tried a hand drill and gave up when this failed, Lt. Van added.

When a hummingbird is hatched, it is only the size of a bumble bee.

Williams Road To Be Resurfaced

Bids for the resurfacing of a section of Williams Road will be opened in the office of the State Roads Commission in Baltimore August 29.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer of the State Roads Commission here said, that approximately a mile of the highway near Twiggtown would be graded, drained and resurfaced with macadam.

A federal-aid project, the work is expected to employ about 30 or 35 men. The Maryland State Employment Service office here has been named as the agency for furnishing labor on the project.

Shortening Lines Make U. S. Tougher

There must have been an immediate resurgence of hope for the outnumbered and harassed U. S. infantry units in Korea when the first elements of support "fresh from the States" arrived at Pusan. To a soldier in the lines the "States" assumes a stature that it never did before. An infantryman in a foxhole feels his homeland is sort of an Pandora's box out of which come all sorts of good things, such as plenty of weapons and plenty of replacements.

Unfortunately, the new troops arriving for the Korean fray can hardly be classed as replacements, since they will replace empty gaps in the front lines and not weary troops. Even with the addition of the new units and their equipment the numerical ratio of American and communist troops is far out of balance. Best estimates are that the reds hold a four to one edge, even though their losses in men have been unbelievably high.

The battle along the spiny ridges and in the defiles of Southern Korea now focuses behind the front. The headlines carry only the story of the front, but the place to watch is the buildup area near the supply port of Pusan. Here the eventual climax of the battle will be decided.

Hampered by long, thin supply lines the American troops have their work cut out for them even in fighting delaying actions. The slow cutting off of communist supply arteries, which is the responsibility of the strategic air force units, is yet to be reflected in the communist ability to field their numerous tanks and self propelled vehicles, or cut into their supply of ammunitions. From all reports, red fire power is still terrific.

But there is room for hope. New forces have landed, among them veterans of World War II infantry fighting. The supply dumps north and west of Pusan are growing. As the lines shorten the American position becomes a tougher and tougher nut to crack.

Swindler arrested in Paris claimed to have carried on affairs with 17 different women at the same time. The average American man has trouble keeping his stories straight with one.

That Household Budget

"Don't talk to me about budgets!" grouches many a young man. "I'm going to spend my money the way I want to. I'm not going to be tied down to any old budget."

First thing that young man knows he and his little family are going to be in debt. He's going to buy a television set on payments without regard to the car payments or the house payments or the payments on the rug. Then one of the small fry will have to have tonsils out—and he cannot meet any of the payments. Then he is really going to have a time. Being "tied down to a budget" isn't in the class for discomfort with being enslaved by debt.

What cooks then? If the young wife is sensible and intelligent she is going to insist on a budget plan for living, including not only the normal allotments, but an extra one of so much per month to be paid on the debt. If they both stick to it, cut the allotment for fun but make sure they have one, cut the other payments but make sure they pay them, in time they'll be out of debt, have a small but dependably increasing bank account and be all set for future gains in prosperity and mental ease.

If they don't—the prognosis is bad: Trouble ahead, sure as shooting.

Summer is a good time to start thinking about this. Let's realize first that making a plan is not an enslaving process but a liberating one. Next, it's just a plan. Once made it should be given fair trial. But if it's not working properly, it can be changed and changed again until it does work.

No one would build a house helter-skelter without any plan. Why build a life that way? Why not get what a family really wants out of life instead of what it thinks it wants today which is likely to make trouble tomorrow?

September is a good time to start trying—four months to Christmas. January is a good time to make adjustments for the longer haul. Let's sit out in the pleasant dark and talk about it a little before setting pencil to paper.

This is a push-button war, all right, but the question now is how many millions of young Americans will be needed to push the buttons.

So This Is It

The United Nations Security Council has convened at the behest of Jakob A. Malik, Soviet representative, who will preside as president this month. There is little doubt as to the motive which prompted Moscow to end its boycott begun last January 13.

Russia is coming back for one purpose—to try to obtain admission to the Council for communist China and thus to bolster her own strength in that organization. The Soviet's secondary proposal for considering "a peaceful solution of the Korean question" is pure camouflage. It is designed to lull the unthinking into the belief that Russia stands as an advocate of peace and is ready to discuss the matter in open meeting.

Until the Soviet orders its satellites in Korea to lay down their arms and withdraw to their old location north of the 38th Parallel, consideration of Red China's claims to preference is out of the question. The United States cannot be thus easily blackmailed into surrender.

It has been suggested that potatoes be outlawed. They are high-priced, cost millions for subsidies, and make women fat.

Caught Short

It has been disclosed that the Library of Congress was as little prepared as the rest of the government and the people for the turn of events which focussed attention on Korea. Swamped immediately with requests for information about the place, the Library found that its fabulous collection offered not too much data readily at hand, and that moreover its huge staff did not include anyone qualified as an expert on Korea or even anyone who could read the Korean language. Those shortcomings have now been remedied, and the Library of Congress is rapidly preparing to offer authoritative statements about Korea.

Many ordinary folk awakened on that fateful Sunday morning when Korea was invaded and found themselves with a blank spot in their minds where knowledge of Korea should have been. Now they can assuage their wounded pride with the knowledge that, in respect to a relative vagueness on things Korean, they had distinguished company.

The Elderly Person's Needs

THERE are many basic needs for leading a happy and wholesome life. These include affection and the satisfaction of belonging to some worthwhile group. In addition, doing things successfully and creating new ideas give us a mental lift. This represents accomplishment and applies to individuals of all ages, from infants to centenarians.

Much of the unpleasantness and unhappiness of oldsters stems from lack these fundamental emotional needs. The children and grandchildren of the elderly figure perhaps that they are too old for love and understanding and as a result, the aged person becomes mentally disturbed, fearful, suspicious, and depressed. Others believe it or not, develop behavior problems and act like spoiled children.

The necessity for affection in particularly marked after numerous members of the family have died. The younger generation must make the old folk feel that they are wanted by including them in their activities and family functions. This is one of the reasons why all of us profit by including some older and some younger men and women in our circle of friends. In this way we can assist those who are a decade or more ahead of us and benefit from our acquaintances who are 10 to 15 years younger. Youth has a stimulating effect; more so if the mature individual mimics his younger friends in keeping an open and active mind.

In addition to devotion the oldster wants to feel that he belongs to a group. Not only does he wish to retain family tie but he derives satisfaction from clubs, societies, and the church. This should be encouraged even if it means that the rest of the family must sacrifice time and effort in taking grandpa back and forth or in listening to his rambling about his activities.

Loss of independence is a blow to the aged man or woman. Children often are to blame in this matter thru overprotecting their elderly dad or mother. Many of these oldsters must be watched as tho they were children but they should not be made to realize it. They resent restrictions or being told to dress warmly, stay out of the rain, or to eat this or that. Oldsters realize their age but hate to be reminded of it.

It has been said that life will come to an end when we have nothing more to contribute to the world. This is not necessarily true but all of us have witnessed the unfortunate effect of retirement and inactivity in some men. This is understandable because another of our basic emotional needs is achievement. As the time spent in working decreases, more leisure can be allotted to recreation and hobbies. It is important to handle this phase properly so that life does not become an empty shell.

Old age affords the opportunity to indulge in travel, card playing, gardening, reading, or other activities that are appealing. Furthermore, if the oldster accepts the fact that life is changing much more rapidly than ever and that new ideas are much more stimulating than living with memories of the past, he will be happier. Moreover, by keeping up to date, a certain degree of self esteem and recognition will come from those who are living in the present and what more can anyone ask?

President Truman's Stand On Korea Was Courageous; FDR Failed To Nip World War II In The Bud; U. S. Must Have National Unity

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The more enlightened half of the Pearson household took a dim view of a recent column in which I thought I was urging support for President Truman in the Korean war but compared his qualities of leadership somewhat unfavorably with those of FDR.

"It doesn't make any difference," said Mrs. P., "what Mr. Truman's voice is like or whether he is good on the radio. You shouldn't be too personal. And you shouldn't be too tough on him in comparing him to FDR."

Maybe Mrs. P. has a point there. At any rate the main thing I want to emphasize in urging more national unity is that people usually fail to understand that world wars really begin far in advance of the actual conflagration, and a president who has the courage to nip a war in the bud early sometimes is able to head off a major world war later.

I also think that President Truman acted with a lot of courage in not ducking a showdown on Korea —despite the critics who now say "I told you so" when things go wrong.

Whether he was wise or whether General MacArthur was too confident in his advance "guarantee of success" I don't know. But I do know that we're all in the thing now, and it's important for us all to stick together. It's also important for us to understand more about the difficult question of how wars start. And if Harry doesn't have the same radio techniques as FDR in selling ideas to the American people, then perhaps some of the rest of us can help him.

How Dictators Build

At any rate I recall most vividly a previous important chapter in our long efforts to prevent war when the late President Roosevelt did his best to nip war in the bud but failed. It illustrates how dictators carefully build up their strength against the democracies before the peace-loving people of the latter countries know what they are in for.

In the late summer of 1937, it was obvious to President Roosevelt, Adm. William Leahy, and many other observers — including this columnist, who repeatedly warned of it—that a world war was inevitable—if the dictators continued their march of unchecked aggression.

Japan was rapidly swallowing China. Mussolini had gulped down Ethiopia and was licking his chops for more. Hitler had annexed Austria, bitten off the Ruhr, and was growling at Czechoslovakia.

Therefore, Admiral Leahy, Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and FDR devised the strategy of putting the weakest dictator in his place in order to make an example to the others.

To this end they picked Japan, partly because we had firm treaty obligations—which Japan had signed — guaranteeing the sovereignty of China. Other European nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Italy—had signed this nine-power treaty which the Jap war lords had torn to shreds by invading China.

Therefore, a carefully planned strategy was evolved to stop war before it got started.

FDR's Quarantine Speech

The first step was Roosevelt's famous Chicago speech in the fall of 1937 proposing a "quarantine" against aggressor nations. Simultaneously, Admiral Leahy worked out a long-range naval blockade of Japan, under which, merely by stationing American ships at Panama and our West Coast, with British ships at Singapore, we could cut off all Japanese oil, cotton, copper, scrap iron without firing a shot. Japan being an island country, wholly dependent on basic imports, such a blockade was fairly easy.

Finally, in order to mobilize world public opinion and peace machinery against the Japanese war lords, Roosevelt called the Brussels Conference of nine-power treaty nations which had guaranteed the sovereignty of China and asked them to carry out their pledge.

Who Killed Peace?

I have never been able to find out exactly what killed this laudable and highly important attempt to prevent the world war that most people knew was coming. The late Norman Davis, chief American delegate to the Brussels Conference, told me that his attempts to take a firm stand against Japanese aggression were constantly sabotaged in the State Department. His speeches and statements, when cabled back to Washington from Brussels for advance approval, were rewritten and drastically toned down by the late Hugh Wilson, who had the ear of Cordell Hull.

In addition, Jim Farley was reported concerned about Midwest political reaction to Roosevelt's bold "quarantine" speech. But I think the basic trouble was that FDR himself either neglected the all-important step he had taken, or else didn't have the courage to face the risk of possible war.

At the time the Brussels Conference reached a crisis, he was off the California coast, fishing.

USS Panay Sunk

Two months later, when the Jap war lords deliberately and brazenly tested out American courage by singing the gunboat USS Panay on the Yangtze River, Admiral Leahy once again urged that his blockade machinery be put into effect. But once again Hugh Wilson urged caution. In the end, both Hull and Roosevelt shunned the risk of a showdown.

At that time—December 1937—the dictators were far from ready for a war. They lacked the raw materials, the arms, even the manpower. They were biting off chunks of the world, piecemeal, in order to build up their strength.

But despite this, the United States side-stepped. Roosevelt, strong as he was politically, wise as he was on foreign policy, shrank from that tough, difficult decision of a long-range naval blockade, which, though the chances of success were excellent, nevertheless did carry the risk of war.

President Truman, faced with somewhat the same problem in Korea, did not flinch. He knew what the risks were. But he also knew that a stand against continued Russian aggression had to be taken some time.

Those are some of the background facts we need to remember and which should help bring more national unity in the difficult crisis we face today.

Misgivings Dot Action To Curb Prices, Wages

By MARK SULLIVAN

CONGRESS STRUGGLES with economic controls, the kind to be imposed and the extent of them. The direct and immediate purpose of most of the proposed controls is speed and efficiency in the production of materials for war. A parallel and equally important purpose, especially of the proposed control over prices and credits, is prevention of economic calamity. The feared calamity would consist of two stages. The first stage would be a cumulative rise in prices, and increasing inflation. The later stage would be a violent collapse followed by extreme depression. The sum of the two stages, if they should take place, would be boom followed by bust, comparable to what took place in the 1920's.

Stalin Predicted Crash

The calamity which is now sought to be averted was already in the making before the Korean war began. If President Truman's temperamental buoyancy prevented him from fearing calamity, if indeed Administration policies increased the dangers of it, yet it was foreseen as possible and solemnly warned against by such men of clear economic thought as Senator Byrd of Virginia and Mr. Bernard M. Baruch. From a more distant quarter, and in a quite opposite spirit, it was expected by Stalin. He, in early 1949, told other Communist heads that it was not necessary to make direct war on the United States, that the Communist purpose of destroying America's economic system would be achieved by economic catastrophe, which he surmised as coming between 1952 and 1956. (Stalin's talks with his associates are described in the recent book, "Behind Closed Doors" by Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias.

What Congress and the Administration must now deal with is the threat of a boom-bust cycle, an inflation-deflation-deflation cycle, with the inflation stage strongly under way and certain to be accelerated by war unless it is checked. That check is imperative, all recognize. In the early stage of discussion, it was apparent that Congress was willing to impose more controls than the President had asked for in his initial request.

But along with willingness of Congress are misgivings. One group of misgivings is related to the division of powers as between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government. Difference about that, determination of Congress to safeguard its legislative prerogative, is historic and constitutional. The present misgivings are made acute by a feeling that has existed in Congress, practically throughout the Truman administration, that powers conferred upon the Administration might be used to the detriment of our economic system; bluntly and not infrequently it has been charged that the course of the Truman administration moves in the direction of socialism.

Some Features Arise

Out of this misgiving have arisen some extraordinary features of the present discussion. In one of the committees of Congress considering economic controls, it was seriously proposed that the statute setting up the controls should be accompanied by an explicit stipulation that the controls be administered so far as possible within the pattern of the system of free competitive enterprise. In discussion of the proposed controls is a disposition to set them up on a "stand-by" basis, meaning that they should not be put in effect until later. The putting in effect would be kept within the power of Congress by a disposition colloquially expressed as "when Congress pulls the trigger." Misgiving about the tendency of control agencies, once set up, to expand and hold onto their functions, was expressed by Republican Senator Taft: "It is quite likely that the controls we put on now will be with us for the rest of our lives. It is thus of the greatest importance to look at them carefully, while there is still time."

Another misgiving, in Congress and elsewhere, not so much a reluctance as a reproach, arises from the fact that the inflation now sought to be checked arose and got headway as a result of Administra-

America Fails Miserably On The Propaganda Front

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—When is the United States Government going to wake up on the propaganda front, where the Soviets are administering defeat after defeat?

The fault does not lie in the "Voice of America" or in the machinery for distributing information but in the policy-makers here at the very top.

For Warren Austin, American ambassador to the United Nations, takes orders from the government here. He cannot speak a single word of policy without approval here in advance.

So the question again is why does the United States Government stand indifferent to the facts of international life today? Why does the United States hesitate timidly, perhaps cravenly, to pronounce Soviet Russia the aggressor and disturber of world peace? Why is Russia allowed to sit in the UN without standing trial for her crimes of aggression?

The only answer that has even been whispered hereabouts is that this might perhaps offend the Russians and make them mad and it might possibly mean war. This, however, is not the language of American statesmen. It is not the language of the men who have ventured forth under the American Flag to assert American rights and to express American courage from the days the republic was founded.

Truman's Decision

President Truman must make the fateful decision about pronouncing Russia the aggressor. If he is waiting for his cabinet officers to tell him what to do, then he is not asserting his own leadership, which everyone who knows him is aware is not lacking in fortitude.

Has the President been impressed by the "fancy Dans" of diplomacy who say it isn't dignified for the United States to express itself vehemently? Nor is it dignified perhaps to use flame throwers and bombs in Korea. It is the inexorable fact of America's survival which must be taken into consideration in these critical times and not some rule in the etiquette book of diplomacy.

The American people are restive. Every bit of evidence of the way public opinion is manifesting itself shows that the people are tired of being pushed around in the court of world opinion by Soviet propaganda and that they are beginning to resent not only the military unpreparedness of the administration but also its diplomatic frustration.

Too often these matters are affected by personal aspects. Just yesterday Representative Priest, Democrat, of Tennessee, prodded by veteran groups who wanted to know where he stood on the eve of a primary election in which he was a candidate for renomination, said that he would use his influence to secure the resignation of Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson. The President told his news conference that a member of the Democratic leadership in the house in which Mr. Priest holds the title of "assistant whip" should not have made such a statement and that, so long as Mr. Truman is in the White House, both of these Cabinet officers would remain in office.

Whatever personal ties of devotion Mr. Truman may have toward his appointees, it was a mistake for him to underwrite the tenure of office of members of his cabinet that way. For Mr. Truman thereby opens himself up to the charge that personal sensitiveness or stubbornness would allow him to keep in office anyone when the best interests of the country in wartime might require changes.

There are many members of Congress—in the Senate as well as the House—who think that new leadership in the Department of State and the Department of Defense would give the country a lift in morale that would be stimulating indeed. But they may or may not be right as to whether the country desires such removals. For it may well be that this is merely the usual hysteria when it isn't easy to fix responsibility on the persons really to blame for our clumsiness and blunders.

Confidence Appears Weakened

Certainly, however, there are signs that Mr. Truman himself is not as confident of the worth of the two cabinet secretaries as he used to be. Otherwise, it is asked, why did he create at the White House the office of "Special Assistant on Foreign Affairs" and appoint Averell Harriman to that job, which certainly is rather a novel substitute or supplement to the position of Secretary of State. Also it is being said that the recent formation of the Joint Board of Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, under the chairmanship of Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, was a step approved by the President but that it was taken on the initiative of the three secretaries themselves. Could it be that Frank Pace is to be the new contact man at the White House on defense matters? Could it be that Mr. Truman plans to diminish gradually the influence of Secretaries Acheson and Johnson? It would seem incredible to accept that inference, but that's the impression these new steps are making.

What is more important than who heads these agencies and departments is the leadership the President himself exercises — and, so far as the propaganda front is concerned, it is falling down miserably because of failure to formulate promptly the top policies that are in themselves effective propaganda in behalf of the free nations.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

8 -- 3

THE Security Council of the United Nations has achieved this signal victory: It voted down Jacob Malik's refusal to recognize the presence of the Nationalist Chinese delegate, eight to three. Only Yugoslavia and India stood by Soviet Russia. This was not a vote for or against Russia; it was a vote for orderly procedure, for a rejection of bullying.

Altogether apart from the particular issues involved in who shall sit in the United Nations, the representatives of Nationalist or Soviet China, the vote gave to this body the dignity of authority. There was no compromise, no trading, no abstentions.

If the United Nations is to survive, it must be a legally conducted body in which no power, great or small, may act dictatorially. There is a due process for recognizing new states or for noting that a change of government has occurred. Had Soviet Russia proceeded properly, it is quite possible that the vote would have been different. Some of the countries which rejected Russia at this session had already recognized Soviet China.

Malik, however, moved in by an impertinence. He is president of the Security Council by the accident of rotation. That office gives him no authority other than to preside and to maintain order. Yet, he attempted to use that office to throw out a delegate of a country that was, when the United Nations was formed, so important as to be given a permanent seat. He sought to usurp authority. Had he succeeded, the United Nations would have ended then in complete failure.

When his illegal act was challenged by the United States, Soviet Russia discovered exactly what its position is in the world.

Yugoslavia's support is nominal. Tito, who has pretentions to head an anti-Stalinist communist league, cannot afford to offend any non-Russian communist country. Tito would like to hope that some day, Mao Tze-Tung might rebel against the Russian conqueror and join the anti-Stalinist schism. It is to be assumed that Yugoslavia will always vote in this manner whenever a communist country appears before the UN.

As for India, it is literally frightened by the Korean war and the possibility of this war spreading to China. Nehru has no means to withstand either a Russian force moving out of Turkestan into Afghanistan and Pakistan, or a huge Soviet Chinese army marching into Burma. Such a force would soon overcome India.

Whereas the Indians boast that they have no serious communist problem in their own country, the fact is that Soviet Russia and Soviet China are closer to them than is safe. Should Russia have a free hand to move into India, it could take that country without too much difficulty unless the United States and Great Britain came to India's aid.

That poses a dilemma for Nehru. His country has only been free from British control and British troops since August 15, 1947. If American and British troops return, what effect will that have upon the development of a free Inida?

Also, should Soviet Russia and Soviet China invade India, that country would inevitably become a battlefield between Russia and the West. In such a situation, Nehru's government would not amount to much more than Rhee's government now does in Southern Korea. This could set India back for a protracted period.

Therefore, Nehru pursues a typical oriental course of trying to put himself in the middle as a broker between Stalin and the West. In this manner, he expects to please Stalin without too much offending the West. After all, the United States is readily placated. It goes in strongly for finely spoken words; Stalin disdains that sort of thing. So Nehru gives Stalin the vote and offers us some ambulances in Korea.

But the Western world stood solid. It presented a united front for order, and the United Nations disclosed that it possesses a capacity to withstand Russian pressures, in spite of the constant danger to many of these nations that the communist arm of Russian imperialism will use strikes, demonstrations and violent agitation against these governments. France and Norway are particularly to be praised in view of the pressures put upon their government by native communists.

When the Russian discovers that the world is not afraid of him, he will change his tactics. He is on the rampage now because he has been so successful since 1943.

Shortening Lines Make U. S. Tougher

There must have been an immediate resurgence of hope for the outnumbered and harassed U. S. infantry units in Korea when the first elements of support "fresh from the States" arrived at Pusan. To a soldier in the lines the "States" assumes a stature that it never did before. An infantryman in a foxhole feels his homeland is sort of an Pandora's box out of which come all sorts of good things, such as plenty of weapons and plenty of replacements.

Unfortunately, the new troops arriving for the Korean fray can hardly be classed as replacements, since they will replace empty gaps in the front lines and not weary troops. Even with the addition of the new units and their equipment the numerical ratio of American and communist troops is far out of balance. Best estimates are that the reds hold a four to one edge, even though their losses in men have been unbelievably high.

The battle along the spiny ridges and in the defiles of Southern Korea now focuses behind the front. The headlines carry only the story of the front, but the place to watch is the buildup area near the supply port of Pusan. Here the eventual climax of the battle will be decided.

Hampered by long, thin supply lines the American troops have their work cut out for them even in fighting delaying actions. The slow cutting off of communist supply arteries, which is the responsibility of the strategic air force units, is yet to be reflected in the communist ability to field their numerous tanks and self propelled vehicles, or cut into their supply of ammunitions. From all reports, red fire power is still terrific.

But there is room for hope. New forces have landed, among them veterans of World War II infantry fighting. The supply dumps north and west of Pusan are growing. As the lines shorten the American position becomes a tougher and tougher nut to crack.

Swindler arrested in Paris claimed to have carried on affairs with 17 different women at the same time. The average American man has trouble keeping his stories straight with one.

That Household Budget

"Don't talk to me about budgets!" grouches many a young man. "I'm going to spend my money the way I want to. I'm not going to be tied down to any old budget."

First thing that young man knows he and his little family are going to be in debt. He's going to buy a television set on payments without regard to the car payments or the house payments or the payments on the rug. Then one of the small fry will have to have tonsils out—and he cannot meet any of the payments. Then he is really going to have a time. Being "tied down to a budget" isn't in the class for discomfort with being enslaved by debt.

What cooks then? If the young wife is sensible and intelligent she is going to insist on a budget plan for living, including not only the normal allotments, but an extra one of so much per month to be paid on the debt. If they both stick to it, cut the allotment for fun but make sure they have one, cut the other payments but make sure they pay them, in time they'll be out of debt, have a small but dependably increasing bank account and be all set for future gains in prosperity and mental ease.

If they don't—the prognosis is bad: Trouble ahead, sure as shooting.

Summer is a good time to start thinking about this. Let's realize first that making a plan is not an enslaving process but a liberating one. Next, it's just a plan. Once made it should be given fair trial. But if it's not working properly, it can be changed and changed again until it does work.

No one would build a house helter-skelter without any plan. Why build a life that way? Why not get what a family really wants out of life instead of what it thinks it wants today which is likely to make trouble tomorrow?

September is a good time to start trying—four months to Christmas. January is a good time to make adjustments for the longer haul. Let's sit out in the pleasant dark and talk about it a little before setting pencil to paper.

This is a push-button war, all right, but the question now is how many millions of young Americans will be needed to push the buttons.

So This Is It

The United Nations Security Council has convened at the behest of Jakob A. Malik, Soviet representative, who will preside as president this month. There is little doubt as to the motive which prompted Moscow to end its boycott begun last January 13.

Russia is coming back for one purpose—to try to obtain admission to the Council for communist China and thus to bolster her own strength in that organization. The Soviet's secondary proposal for considering "a peaceful solution of the Korean question" is pure camouflage. It is designed to lull the unthinking into the belief that Russia stands as an advocate of peace and is ready to discuss the matter in open meeting.

Until the Soviet orders its satellites in Korea to lay down their arms and withdraw to their old location north of the 38th Parallel, consideration of Red China's claims to preference is out of the question. The United States cannot be thus easily blackmailed into surrender.

It has been suggested that potatoes be outlawed. They are high-priced, cost millions for subsidies, and make women fat.

Caught Short

It has been disclosed that the Library of Congress was as little prepared as the rest of the government and the people for the turn of events which focussed attention on Korea. Swamped immediately with requests for information about the place, the Library found that its fabulous collection offered not too much data readily at hand, and that moreover its huge staff did not include anyone qualified as an expert on Korea or even anyone who could read the Korean language. Those shortcomings have now been remedied, and the Library of Congress is rapidly preparing to offer authoritative statements about Korea.

Many ordinary folk awakened on that fateful Sunday morning when Korea was invaded and found themselves with a blank spot in their minds where knowledge of Korea should have been. Now they can assuage their wounded pride with the knowledge that, in respect to a relative vagueness on things Korean, they had distinguished company.

The Elderly Person's Needs

THERE are many basic needs for leading a happy and wholesome life. These include affection and the satisfaction of belonging to some worthwhile group. In addition, doing things successfully and creating new ideas give us a mental lift. This represents accomplishment and applies to individuals of all ages, from infants to centenarians.

Much of the unpleasantness and unhappiness of oldsters stems from lack these fundamental emotional needs. The children and grandchildren of the elderly figure perhaps that they are too old for love and understanding and as a result, the aged person becomes mentally disturbed, fearful, suspicious, and depressed. Others believe it or not, develop behavior problems and act like spoiled children.

The necessity for affection in particularly marked after numerous members of the family have died. Japan was rapidly swallowing China. Mussolini had gulped down Ethiopia and was licking his chops for more. Hitler had annexed Austria, bitten off the Ruhr, and was growling at Czechoslovakia.

Therefore, Admiral Leahy, Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and FDR devised the strategy of putting the weakest dictator in his place in order to make an example to the others.

To this end they picked Japan, partly because we had firm treaty obligations—which Japan had signed — guaranteeing the sovereignty of China. Other European nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Italy—had signed this nine-power treaty which the Jap war lords had torn to shreds by invading China.

Therefore, a carefully planned strategy was evolved to stop war before it got started.

FDR's Quarantine Speech

The first step was Roosevelt's famous Chicago speech in the fall of 1937 proposing a "quarantine" against aggressor nations. Simultaneously, Admiral Leahy worked out a long-range naval blockade of Japan, under which, merely by stationing American ships at Panama and our West Coast, with British ships at Singapore, we could cut off all Japanese oil, cotton, copper, scrap iron without firing a shot. Japan being an island country, wholly dependent on basic imports, such a blockade was fairly easy.

Finally, in order to mobilize world public opinion and peace machinery against the Japanese war lords, Roosevelt called the Brussels Conference of nine-power treaty nations which had guaranteed the sovereignty of China and asked them to carry out their pledge.

Who Killed Peace?

I have never been able to find out exactly what killed this laudable and highly important attempt to prevent the world war that most people knew was coming. The late Norman Davis, chief American delegate to the Brussels Conference, told me that his attempts to take a firm stand against Japanese aggression were constantly sabotaged in the State Department. His speeches and statements, when cabled back to Washington from Brussels for advance approval, were rewritten and drastically toned down by the late Hugh Wilson, who had the ear of Cordell Hull.

In addition, Jim Farley was reported concerned about Midwest political reaction to Roosevelt's bold "quarantine" speech. But I think the basic trouble was that FDR himself either neglected the all-important step he had taken, or else didn't have the courage to face the risk of possible war.

At the time the Brussels Conference reached a crisis, he was off the California coast, fishing.

USS Panay Sunk

Two months later, when the Jap war lords deliberately and brazenly tested out American courage by singing the gunboat USS Panay on the Yangtze River, Admiral Leahy once again urged that his blockade machinery be put into effect. But once again Hugh Wilson urged caution. In the end, both Hull and Roosevelt shunned the risk of a showdown.

At that time—December 1937—the dictators were far from ready for a war. They lacked the raw materials, the arms, even the manpower. They were biting off chunks of the world, piecemeal, in order to build up their strength.

But despite this, the United States side-stepped. Roosevelt, strong as he was politically, wise as he was on foreign policy, shrank from that tough, difficult decision of a long-range naval blockade, which, though the chances of success were excellent, nevertheless did carry the risk of war.

President Truman, faced with somewhat the same problem in Korea, did not flinch. He knew what the risks were. But he also knew that a stand against continued Russian aggression had to be taken some time.

Those are some of the background facts we need to remember and which should help bring more national unity in the difficult crisis we face today.

Misgivings Dot Action To Curb Prices, Wages

By MARK SULLIVAN

CONGRESS STRUGGLES with economic controls, the kind to be imposed and the extent of them. The direct and immediate purpose of most of the proposed controls is speed and efficiency in the production of materials for war. A parallel and equally important purpose, especially of the proposed control over prices and credits, is prevention of economic calamity. The feared calamity would consist of two stages. The first stage would be a cumulative rise in prices, and increasing inflation. The later stage would be a violent collapse followed by extreme depression. The sum of the two stages, if they should take place, would be boom followed by bust, comparable to what took place in the 1920's.

Stalin Predicted Crash

The calamity which is now sought to be averted was already in the making before the Korean war began. If President Truman's temperamental buoyancy prevented him from fearing calamity, if indeed Administration policies increased the dangers of it, yet it was foreseen as possible and solemnly warned against by such men of clear economic thought as Senator Byrd of Virginia and Mr. Bernard M. Baruch. From a more distant quarter, and in a quite opposite spirit, it was expected by Stalin. He, in early 1949, told other Communist heads that it was not necessary to make direct war on the United States, that the Communist purpose of destroying America's economic system would be achieved by economic catastrophe, which he surmised as coming between 1952 and 1956. (Stalin's talks with his associates are described in the recent book, "Behind Closed Doors" by Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias.

What Congress and the Administration must now deal with is the threat of a boom-bust cycle, an inflation-deflation cycle, with the inflation stage strongly under way and certain to be accelerated by war unless it is checked. That check is imperative, all recognize. In the early stage of discussion, it was apparent that Congress was willing to impose more controls than the President had asked for in his initial request.

But along with willingness of Congress are misgivings. One group of misgivings is related to the division of powers as between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government. Difference about that, determination of Congress to safeguard its legislative prerogative, is historic and constitutional. The present misgivings are made acute by a feeling that has existed in Congress, practically throughout the Truman administration, that powers conferred upon the Administration might be used to the detriment of our economic system; bluntly and not infrequently it has been charged that the course of the Truman administration moves in the direction of socialism.

Some Features Arise

Out of this misgiving have arisen some extraordinary features of the present discussion. In one of the committees of Congress considering economic controls, it was seriously proposed that the statute setting up the controls should be accompanied by an explicit stipulation that the controls be administered so far as possible within the pattern of the system of free competitive enterprise. In discussion of the proposed controls is a disposition to set them up on a "stand-by" basis, meaning that they should not be put in effect until later. The putting in effect would be kept within the power of Congress by a disposition colloquially expressed as "when Congress pulls the trigger." Misgiving about the tendency of control agencies, once set up, to expand and hold onto their functions, was expressed by Republican Senator Taft: "It is quite likely that the controls we put on now will be with us for the rest of our lives. It is thus of the greatest importance to look at them carefully, while there is still time."

Another misgiving, in Congress and elsewhere, not so much a reluctance as a reproach, arises from the fact that the inflation now sought to be checked arose and got headway as a result of Administra-

America Fails Miserably On The Propaganda Front

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—When is the United States Government going to wake up on the propaganda front, where the Soviets are administering defeat after defeat?

The fault does not lie in the "Voice of America" or in the machinery for distributing information but in the policy-makers here at the very top.

For Warren Austin, American ambassador to the United Nations, takes orders from the government here. He cannot speak a single word of policy without approval here in advance.

So the question again is why does the United States Government stand indifferent to the facts of international life today? Why does the United States hesitate timidly, perhaps cravenly, to pronounce Soviet Russia the aggressor and disturber of world peace? Why is Russia allowed to sit in the UN without standing trial for her crimes of aggression?

The only answer that has even been whispered hereabouts is that this might perhaps offend the Russians and make them mad and it might possibly mean war. This, however, is not the language of American statesmen. It is not the language of the men who have ventured forth under the American Flag to assert American rights and to express American courage from the days the republic was founded.

Truman's Decision

President Truman must make the fateful decision about pronouncing Russia the aggressor. If he is waiting for his cabinet officers to tell him what to do, then he is not asserting his own leadership, which everyone who knows him is aware is not lacking in fortitude.

Has the President been impressed by the "fancy Dans" of diplomacy who say it isn't dignified for the United States to express itself vehemently? Nor is it dignified perhaps to use flame throwers and bombs in Korea. It is the inexorable fact of America's survival which must be taken into consideration in these critical times and not some rule in the etiquette book of diplomacy.

The American people are restive. Every bit of evidence of the way public opinion is manifesting itself shows that the people are tired of being pushed around in the court of world opinion by Soviet propaganda and that they are beginning to resent not only the military unpreparedness of the administration but also its diplomatic frustration.

Too often these matters are affected by personal aspects. Just yesterday Representative Priest, Democrat, of Tennessee, prodded by veteran groups who wanted to know where he stood on the eve of a primary election in which he was a candidate for renomination, said that he would use his influence to secure the resignation of Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson. The President told his news conference that a member of the Democratic leadership in the house in which Mr. Priest holds the title of "assistant whip" should not have made such a statement and that, so long as Mr. Truman is in the White House, both of these Cabinet officers would remain in office.

Whatever personal ties of devotion Mr. Truman may have toward his appointees, it was a mistake for him to underwrite the tenure of office of members of his cabinet that way. For Mr. Truman thereby opens himself up to the charge that personal sensitiveness or stubbornness would allow him to keep in office anyone when the best interests of the country in wartime might require changes.

There are many members of Congress—in the Senate as well as the House—who think that new leadership in the Department of State and the Department of Defense would give the country a lift in morale that would be stimulating indeed. But they may or may not be right as to whether the country desires such removals. For it may well be that this is merely the usual hysteria when it isn't easy to fix responsibility on the persons really to blame for our clumsiness and blunders.

Confidence Appears Weakened

Certainly, however, there are signs that Mr. Truman himself is not as confident of the worth of the two cabinet secretaries as he used to be. Otherwise, it is asked, why did he create at the White House the office of "Special Assistant on Foreign Affairs" and appoint Averell Harriman to that job, which certainly is rather a novel substitute or supplement to the position of Secretary of State. Also it is being said that the recent formation of the Joint Board of Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, under the chairmanship of Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, was a step approved by the President but that it was taken on the initiative of the three secretaries themselves. Could it be that Frank Pace is to be the new contact man at the White House on defense matters? Could it be that Mr. Truman plans to diminish gradually the influence of Secretaries Acheson and Johnson? It would seem incredible to accept that inference, but that's the impression these new steps are making.

What is more important than who heads these agencies and departments is the leadership the President himself exercises — and, so far as the propaganda front is concerned, it is falling down miserably because of failure to formulate promptly the top policies that are in themselves effective propaganda in behalf of the free nations.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

8 -- 3

THE Security Council of the United Nations has achieved this signal victory: It voted down Jacob Malik's refusal to recognize the presence of the Nationalist Chinese delegate, eight to three. Only Yugoslavia and India stood by Soviet Russia. This was not a vote for or against Russia; it was a vote for orderly procedure, for a rejection of bullying.

Altogether apart from the particular issues involved in who shall sit in the United Nations, the representatives of Nationalist or Soviet China, the vote gave to this body the dignity of authority. There was no compromise, no trading, no abstentions.

If the United Nations is to survive, it must be a legally conducted body in which no power, great or small, may act dictatorially. There is a due process for recognizing new states or for noting that a change of government has occurred. Had Soviet Russia proceeded properly, it is quite possible that the vote would have been different. Some of the countries which rejected Russia at this session had already recognized Soviet China.

Malik, however, moved in by an impertinence. He is president of the Security Council by the accident of rotation. That office gives him no authority other than to preside and to maintain order. Yet, he attempted to use that office to throw out a delegate of a country that was, when the United Nations was formed, so important as to be given a permanent seat. He sought to usurp authority. Had he succeeded, the United Nations would have ended then in complete failure.

When his illegal act was challenged by the United States, Soviet Russia discovered exactly what its position is in the world.

Yugoslavia's support is nominal. Tito, who has pretentions to head an anti-Stalinist communist league, cannot afford to offend any non-Russian communist country. Tito would like to hope that some day, Mao Tze-Tung might rebel against the Russian conqueror and join the anti-Stalinist schism. It is to be assumed that Yugoslavia will always vote in this manner whenever a communist country appears before the UN.

As for India, it is literally frightened by the Korean war and the possibility of this war spreading to China. Nehru has no means to withstand either a Russian force moving out of Turkestan into Afghanistan and Pakistan, or a huge Soviet Chinese army marching into Burma. Such a force would soon overcome Inida.

Whereas the Indians boast that they have no serious communist problem in their own country, the fact is that Soviet Russia and Soviet China are closer to them than is safe. Should Russia have a free hand to move into India, it could take that country without too much difficulty unless the United States and Great Britain came to India's aid.

That poses a dilemma for Nehru. His country has only been free from British control and British troops since August 15, 1947. If American and British troops return, what effect will that have upon the development of a free Inida?

Also, should Soviet Russia and Soviet China invade India, that country would inevitably become a battlefield between Russia and the West. In such a situation, Nehru's government would not amount to much more than Rhee's government now does in Southern Korea. This could set India back for a protracted period.

Therefore, Nehru pursues a typical oriental course of trying to put himself in the middle as a broker between Stalin and the West. In this manner, he expects to please Stalin without too much offending the West. After all, the United States is readily placated. It goes in strongly for finely spoken words; Stalin disdains that sort of thing. So Nehru gives Stalin the vote and offers us some ambulances in Korea.

But the Western world stood solid. It presented a united front for order, and the United Nations disclosed that it possesses a capacity to withstand Russian pressures, in spite of the constant danger to many of these nations that the communist arm of Russian imperialism will use strikes, demonstrations and violent agitation against these governments. France and Norway are particularly to be praised in view of the pressures put upon their government by native communists.

When the Russian discovers that the world is not afraid of him, he will change his tactics. He is on the rampage now because he has been so successful since 1943.

Bids Being Asked On Two Garrett County Schools

Proposals To Be Opened Sept. 20

OAKLAND—Sealed proposals for construction of two junior-senior high schools in the county are being sought by the Board of County Commissioners, according to a published advertisement this week.

The bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the commission office on Wednesday, September 20.

Each bidder is to be required to submit two main proposals, one for each of the two buildings, but will have the privilege of limiting owners to acceptance of one proposal. With each main proposal each bidder shall also submit proposals on all alternates applying to the building in connection.

Some of these alternate proposals will be a gymnasium, auditorium and shop for each school. Cafeterias for each school will be included in the main bid.

Drawings and specifications will be available through the office of the architect, E. H. Glidden, Jr., in Baltimore, on or after August 10. Details of construction and contents of the building will be given at that time.

As indicated previously it is the plan of the County Commissioners, who have approval of the county board of education and the state superintendent of schools, to construct two high schools in the county, one between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, to serve people of the southern end of the county, and one at the Cove, between Accident and Keyser Ridge, to serve the people of the northern end of the county.

The one near Oakland will take care of an enrollment of around 1,200, while the one at the Cove will have a capacity of around 900.

The plan calls also for renovation and remodeling of present school buildings at Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident and Friendsville into modern elementary centers, using them as centers for community activities the same as before.

Under the new plan students attending the two high schools will have the advantage of selection of courses leading to complete preparation in their chosen field of endeavor, instead of a limited curriculum as at present in the five schools where the enrollment does not justify the expense of a large teaching staff.

The two-high-school-plan was accepted by the county commissioners last year then the costs of two plans were calculated by architects and construction experts, after it was discovered that retention of the present five high schools and their enlargement to take care of the increased enrollment due this year because of the change-over from the 11 to the 12 year system, would cost an estimated $1,000,000 more than adoption of the new plan. Since the funds are limited, the more economical plan was chosen, it was stated.

Bids Being Asked On Two Garrett County Schools

Proposals To Be Opened Sept. 20

OAKLAND—Sealed proposals for construction of two junior-senior high schools in the county are being sought by the Board of County Commissioners, according to a published advertisement this week.

The bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the commission office on Wednesday, September 20.

Each bidder is to be required to submit two main proposals, one for each of the two buildings, but will have the privilege of limiting owners to acceptance of one proposal. With each main proposal each bidder shall also submit proposals on all alternates applying to the building in connection.

Some of these alternate proposals will be a gymnasium, auditorium and shop for each school. Cafeterias for each school will be included in the main bid.

Drawings and specifications will be available through the office of the architect, E. H. Glidden, Jr., in Baltimore, on or after August 10. Details of construction and contents of the building will be given at that time.

As indicated previously it is the plan of the County Commissioners, who have approval of the county board of education and the state superintendent of schools, to construct two high schools in the county, one between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, to serve people of the southern end of the county, and one at the Cove, between Accident and Keyser Ridge, to serve the people of the northern end of the county.

The one near Oakland will take care of an enrollment of around 1,200, while the one at the Cove will have a capacity of around 900.

The plan calls also for renovation and remodeling of present school buildings at Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident and Friendsville into modern elementary centers, using them as centers for community activities the same as before.

Under the new plan students attending the two high schools will have the advantage of selection of courses leading to complete preparation in their chosen field of endeavor, instead of a limited curriculum as at present in the five schools where the enrollment does not justify the expense of a large teaching staff.

The two-high-school-plan was accepted by the county commissioners last year then the costs of two plans were calculated by architects and construction experts, after it was discovered that retention of the present five high schools and their enlargement to take care of the increased enrollment due this year because of the change-over from the 11 to the 12 year system, would cost an estimated $1,000,000 more than adoption of the new plan. Since the funds are limited, the more economical plan was chosen, it was stated.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4. (INS)—One of Jane Froman's real reasons for coming to the coast for a date at the Mocambo August 22, is to talk with MGM about making her life story.

Jane and her husband, John Burns, are finishing the story of her career, climaxed by the plane crash in which he saved her life after she was seriously injured. Burns, you'll remember, was the pilot of the Pan American plane which crashed off the coast of Portugal.

Interesting that Jane doesn't want to play herself in the picture. She'd like to do a Jolson and sing the songs behind the personality of some other actress.

There is plenty of drama in the Froman girl's story—plus a strong love story, which, combined with music, should be something!

George Jessel is returning to the stage but only for two weeks.

At the request of the American Legion, George will be the star of "Red, White and Blue," the revue the Legion is producing at the Paramount Theater in Los Angeles, starting October 7 and running for two weeks.

Darryl Zanuck has given his okay for the one and only Jessel to sing and give a series of monologues, including his daffy "Professor Labermacher."

After the Los Angeles run the revue goes to Washington for one performance for President Truman.

Amateur linguists are going to have a field day when "Women Without Names" is released in this country. This European made movie starring Valentia Cortesa and Simone Simon has only 40 per cent English dialogue—the rest consisting of nine different European languages.

There will be no English subtitles, either, because Ilya Lopert, who is bringing it to this country, says the punch of the plot hinges on the babble of tongues.

It's about displaced women in a camp, trying to make themselves understood during the years they are interned.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The beautiful Mary Sinclaire, who has been dating Lew Ayres, is the estranged wife of George Abbott.

Kirk Douglas got back in town in time to take his favorite girl, Irene Wrightsman, to Patti Page's debut at Ciro's tonight.

John Van Druten has leased the New York apartment of Patrice Munsel while Patrice does "Rose Marie" at the Greek Theater and on tour.

Bill Morrow, out of the hospital and feeling tops again, at the King's with Pat Dane, who may become Mrs. Morrow any tomorrow.

John Barrymore Jr., has a girl friend—Debbie Reynolds, the MGM debutante. They are cute kids ice-cream-soda dating. Incidentally, young Barrymore is anxious to do a show on Broadway—really following in his father's footsteps.

• — • — •

Nice honor, too, for Diana Lynn. She has been invited by the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington to represent the motion picture industry, appearing with Mrs. Harry Truman, on September 26.

Jim Thorpe is so ill with ptomaine poisoning, he won't be able to start his technical advising on "Jim Thorpe, All American" for a week.

The stork is one week late keeping dates with both Jeanne Crain and Cyd Charisse.

Nice reverse the crew of "Magnificent Yankee" pulled on Ann Harding and Louis Calheen. They gifted the stars after the finish of the picture—which certainly speaks well for Louis an Ann.

Skeets Gallagher was such a hit in "Harvey" at Laguna that he will star in "High and Dry" at the Las Palmas Theater.

Pat Neal is surprising herself with how well she is singing in "The Breaking Point." Her recording of "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone" may be repeated for a top record company.

Are Sally Forrest and Agent Milo Frank calling off their engagement?

Call him Chief Burt Lancaster from now on. Burt is the first white man ever to be made an honorary member of the Commanche Indian tribe.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The latest story about psychiatry concerns the two eminent practitioners of that new science who were strolling down Park Avenue when a beautiful girl passed by, smiled graciously, and said a cheery "good morning." One psychiatrist frowned and said testily to his companion, "Hmphh! I wonder what she meant by that?"

In Hoboken, a Rutgers professor qualified for the absent-minded championship by forgetting his car was aboard a Forty-second Street ferry, and trundling off aboard a suburban bus. Ten minutes later he frantically dashed back to find the crew towing his car off the ferry, and owners of the vehicles stalled behind it airing their vocabularies. "Hey, that's my car," cried the professor. A policeman stared at him open-mouthed, tore up a report he was compiling, and called up to the pilot house. "Stop worrying, Captain. Here's the body."

Elk Garden Man Killed In Accident

ELK GARDEN, W. Va. — Charles W. Abernathy, 50, Elk Garden, was killed Saturday night when he was hit by a car while crossing the Washington - Baltimore Boulevard, near Berwyn.

State Police identified the driver of the car as Anthony C. Costanzo, Washington and said he was driving north on the dual highway.

Abernathy was thrown 50 feet and was pronounced dead at the scene. He had been visiting there.

Baering Down On The News

We are asking Washington to chase some of those hidden taxes out into the open. We don't care for an ambushed orchestra playing Offenbach's Fifth in bankruptcy behind the potter palms of deficit financing.

• — • — •

The hidden tax makes eight of a dozen. And is the two-foot yardstick of business. If life is a gamble I'm asking the tax department to put in a two-dollar window.

• — • — •

There should be chocolate coating on some things. But not on doorknobs and brake-handles. And hiding a tax is like painting saw-dust green to fool near-sighted cows. When old Daniel Boone saw a feather he knew there was an Indian under it.

• — • — •

This is not an endorsement of the direct tax. Of the two taxes I like neither.

HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4, (INS)—One of Jane Froman's real reasons for coming to the coast for a date at the Mocambo August 22, is to talk with MGM about making her life story.

Jane and her husband, John Burns, are finishing the story of her career, climaxed by the plane crash in which he saved her life after she was seriously injured. Burns, you'll remember, was the pilot of the Pan American plane which crashed off the coast of Portugal.

Interesting that Jane doesn't want to play herself in the picture. She'd like to do a Jolson and sing the songs behind the personality of some other actress.

There is plenty of drama in the Froman girl's story—plus a strong love story, which, combined with music, should be something!

George Jessel is returning to the stage but only for two weeks.

At the request of the American Legion, George will be the star of "Red, White and Blue," the revue the Legion is producing at the Paramount Theater in Los Angeles, starting October 7 and running for two weeks.

Darryl Zanuck has given his okay for the one and only Jessel to sing and give a series of monologues, including his daffy "Professor Labermacher."

After the Los Angeles run the revue goes to Washington for one performance for President Truman.

Amateur linguists are going to have a field day when "Women Without Names" is released in this country. This European made movie starring Valentia Cortesa and Simone Simon has only 40 per cent English dialogue—the rest consisting of nine different European languages.

There will be no English subtitles, either, because Ilya Lopert, who is bringing it to this country, says the punch of the plot hinges on the babble of tongues.

It's about displaced women in a camp, trying to make themselves understood during the years they are interned.

• — • — •

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The beautiful Mary Sinclaire, who has been dating Lew Ayres, is the estranged wife of George Abbott.

Kirk Douglas got back in town in time to take his favorite girl, Irene Wrightsman, to Patti Page's debut at Ciro's tonight.

John Van Druten has leased the New York apartment of Patrice Munsel while Patrice does "Rose Marie" at the Greek Theater and on tour.

Bill Morrow, out of the hospital and feeling tops again, at the King's with Pat Dane, who may become Mrs. Morrow any tomorrow.

John Barrymore Jr., has a girl friend—Debbie Reynolds, the MGM debutante. They are cute kids ice-cream-soda dating. Incidentally, young Barrymore is anxious to do a show on Broadway—really following in his father's footsteps.

• — • — •

Nice honor, too, for Diana Lynn. She has been invited by the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington to represent the motion picture industry, appearing with Mrs. Harry Truman, on September 26.

Jim Thorpe is so ill with ptomaine poisoning, he won't be able to start his technical advising on "Jim Thorpe, All American" for a week.

The stork is one week late keeping dates with both Jeanne Crain and Cyd Charisse.

Nice reverse the crew of "Magnificent Yankee" pulled on Ann Harding and Louis Calheen. They gifted the stars after the finish of the picture—which certainly speaks well for Louis an Ann.

Skeets Gallagher was such a hit in "Harvey" at Laguna that he will star in "High and Dry" at the Las Palmas Theater.

Pat Neal is surprising herself with how well she is singing in "The Breaking Point." Her recording of "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone" may be repeated for a top record company.

Are Sally Forrest and Agent Milo Frank calling off their engagement?

Call him Chief Burt Lancaster from now on. Burt is the first white man ever to be made an honorary member of the Commanche Indian tribe.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The latest story about psychiatry concerns the two eminent practitioners of that new science who were strolling down Park Avenue when a beautiful girl passed by, smiled graciously, and said a cheery "good morning." One psychiatrist frowned and said testily to his companion, "Hmphh! I wonder what she meant by that?"

In Hoboken, a Rutgers professor qualified for the absent-minded championship by forgetting his car was aboard a Forty-second Street ferry, and trundling off aboard a suburban bus. Ten minutes later he frantically dashed back to find the crew towing his car off the ferry, and owners of the vehicles stalled behind it airing their vocabularies. "Hey, that's my car," cried the professor. A policeman stared at him open-mouthed, tore up a report he was compiling, and called up to the pilot house. "Stop worrying, Captain. Here's the body."

Take Advantage Of Your Heritage . . . . . Freedom Of Worship!

You would not think of putting children like these in an open boat, without rudder or oars, and letting them drift wherever wind and wave chose to carry them.

No, you're not that kind of a parent!

But let's look at life as your children will face it. Life is an open sea upon which today's young people must embark. The winds often will be strong and the waves will be high. Their voyage will be far safer if the rudder and oars of proper spiritual training have been given them.

Fifteen million boys and girls are growing up in homes that pay no attention to and have no part in the Church or in religious education. These children are drifting!

The Church makes life safer for young and old alike. It provides a program designed to serve humanity in countless ways. The truths it teaches are basic and everlasting. Can you afford not to be a part of it?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Take Advantage Of Your Heritage . . . . . Freedom Of Worship!

You would not think of putting children like these in an open boat, without rudder or oars, and letting them drift wherever wind and wave chose to carry them.

No, you're not that kind of a parent!

But let's look at life as your children will face it. Life is an open sea upon which today's young people must embark. The winds often will be strong and the waves will be high. Their voyage will be far safer if the rudder and oars of proper spiritual training have been given them.

Fifteen million boys and girls are growing up in homes that pay no attention to and have no part in the Church or in religious education. These children are drifting!

The Church makes life safer for young and old alike. It provides a program designed to serve humanity in countless ways. The truths it teaches are basic and everlasting. Can you afford not to be a part of it?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

66,743 Fans See Yankees Win 1-0 Over Cleveland

Raschi Cops Before Biggest Night Crowd

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP) — Big Vic Raschi yanked the New York Yankees out of a depressing losing streak tonight, pitching a dazzling 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

With a crowd of 66,743 on hand—biggest night crowd for either league this season — Raschi passed out three measly singles in separate innings.

The three honored men to figure him out were Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and pitcher Bob Feller, the bottom end of Cleveland's batting order. It was Feller's eighth loss against 10 victories.

Though occasionally in a tight spot Feller was able to hold the Yankees back except for one inning —the fifth.

The Yanks were opening a three-game series with the Indians tonight, having just arrived from Detroit and three straight lickings by the Tigers. Tonight's victory put them back in second place a half game ahead of Cleveland. Score:

Bobby Lewis belted a grand slam homer to climax a five-run rally in the last inning to give Manager "Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers a 5-4 verdict over George Wolfe's Dodgers last night in a Little League game at Penn Avenue Field.

Yaider has the Tigers blanked and had pitched five-hit ball and fanned nine until the roof fell in on him in the last of the 6th when five hits capped by Lewis' four-bagger beat him. The Dodgers pitcher failed to issue a walk.

Galen McGregor of the Tigers struck out 15 and gave up five passes. Both of the hits he yielded were homers by Regis Fair and Crawford. Lewis, Kenny Johnson and Joe Cioni had two hits each for the Tigers who now lead the Dan Division by three full games.

Led by Jerry Yankelevitz and Donald Bender, the Indians defeated the Braves at East Side by the score of 7-1. Bender drove in three runs with a homer, double and single while Yankelevitz had a perfect day at bat with four singles and two runs batted in. Bob Paye drove in the other two runs with a line drive to right field in the 6th. Don Irons allowed the Braves three hits and fanned seven. Tommy Reed's triple and Wolford's single in the 5th averted a shutout for the Braves. Billy Groves made several outstanding plays at third base for the winners and Wilt rapped two hits in three trips.

Making his first start of the season, Arthur Washington pitched Manager Howard Northcraft's Phillies to an 11-4 victory over the first place Red Sox at Stitcher Field.

Homers Net Six Runs

Washington whiffed 10 and helped win his own game with a two-run homer in the 4th frame. Harold Hilton walloped a two-run homer in the third and Bill Hanekamp homered to center after Steckman walked in the 5th. Ronald May pilfered home for the Phillies in the 4th.

Billmeyer, losing pitcher, and Sullivan, who replaced him, fanned 11 between them. Steckman and Hanekamp had three hits each for the winners while N. Smith accounted for two of the Sox six safeties. Scores:

Arnone's Record 15-0 • Lakatos New KO Artist • Gaffney May Resign • Ridgeley Applicants

By C. V. BURNS

The longest winning streak enjoyed by any baseball pitcher in the tri-state area this season belongs to "Lefty" Arnone who has had the honor of chalking up 15 consecutive triumphs for two championship teams.

Undefeated Enardo from Eckhart won nine in a row for Beall High School's Bi-State Conference champions, including the playoff game with Allegany High School. Two of those wins were over non-league foes. In the league Arnone bagged 7 of Beall's 10 triumphs.

Since the close of the school campaign, the southpaw ace has been active in the Mountain District American Legion Junior League and his pitching brought Midland Post it's first championship in the loop. Manager Hugh Coleman's outfit won seven and lost one and Arnone's mark was 5-0, running his string to 14 for the season.

On Wednesday, Enardo, who has been dubbed "Moose" by his pals, turned back Hagerstown in the opening game of the series for the Legion's Area "A" title in Maryland. Today the junior nines hook up again at Midland and while Arnone is not slated to start he may be in there blazing his fast one through if Hagerstown gets rough. If the series is extended to the limit, "Moose" is certain to see action at Midland on Sunday.

In addition to winning 15 games without a reverse, including four shutouts, the Eckhart youngster has earned somewhat of a "rep" as a strikeout artist, and in no game has he ever issued more than three passes.

In the nine schoolboy contests for Beall, "Lefty" fired the third strike past 84 and issued 19 passes. In the six winning games for Midland, Arnone has wiffed 53 and passed only seven. For the 15 contests he has sent 137 back to the bench via the strikeout route, an average of nine per game, and has given up 26 free tickets or an average of 1.7 per contest, which is pretty nifty pitching.

Here's Arnone's complete record of wins for the current season:

Beall 10, Fort Ashby 0
Beall 8, Barton 0
Beall 5, Central 2
Beall 4, LaSalle 3
Beall 7, Hyndman 1
Beall 5, Hyndman 3
Beall 11, Central 5
Beall 17, Bruce 2
Beall 9, Allegany 4

Midland 3, Lonaconing 0
Midland 3, Westernport 2
Midland 4, Westernport 0
Midland 9, Cumberland 5
Midland 18, Frostburg 3

Midland 13, Hagerstown 4

• — • — •

Three pitchers may get an opportunity to become the first 10-game winners in their respective leagues in contests today and tomorrow.

Tommy Allen, strikeout king of the Interstate League with 112 victims to date has won nine and lost 2 and may pitch against the Moose at Stitcher Field tomorrow.

Bill Haberlein, a 9-2 winner for Zihlman, may try for No. 10 tomorrow against Barrelville.

And Henry Salyan, the clever southpaw, will likely go after No. 10 today or Sunday when the Hyndman Firemen play the Old Germans at Stitcher Field and the Republican Club tossers at Lonaconing. Henry's boasting a 9-3 record to date.

The recent appointment of James T. "Jim" Gaffney as manager of the local B. F. Goodrich Store may mean that LaSalle High School will have to hunt a football coach for the coming season.

Gaffney, former Tennessee backfield star and later with the Washington Redskins, was assistant to Phil Coralan last year and upon the latter's resignation this spring "Jim" was elevated to the post of head coach of the Explorers.

Gaffney feels that his new position as store manager will occupy much of his time and little will be left for coaching football.

"Jim" will talk things over with on the latter's return to Cumberbrother Godfrey John, principal, upland about August 15.

If Gaffney is forced to give up coaching, and that's almost certain, LaSalle will have to line up a successor in a hurry as the Explorers are billed to open their campaign just one month from Tuesday and that's September 8 when Romney High plays here.

LaSalle has a 10-game schedule and there are no soft spots.

Youngstown, Ohio, has produced many good fighters and quite a few of them have shown in Cumberland.

The latest fistic sensation from the Ohio city is Elmer Lakatos, lightweight, who has scored six knockouts in as many pro matches. His latest victim was Floyd Black who was massacred in the third round at Pittsburgh on Tuesday night.

Black is the fellow who appeared here twice — once as Floyd Black and later as Floogie White. He was barred from the amateur ranks by the Pittsburgh AAU group.

Jimmie Jones, the best of the fighters from Youngstown, appeared in a match at Frostburg that ended abruptly when his opponent, Barney Adair, fell out of the ring and injured his spine.

Then there was Dick Evans, who was the victim of a sensational knockout scored here by Mike Kearney, of Huntington, W. Va.

Other good fighters out of Youngstown were Harold Scarney, Al Palmer, Dick Metty, Buck Mathewson, Battling Romaine, Sammy Cimminello, Tony and Jimmie Zill and "Dude" Murphy, all of whom boxed here.

When the Mineral County School Board met this week to consider applicants for the post of football and basketball coach at Ridgeley High School, left vacant when Jesse E. Riggleman resigned, three names were submitted. They were:

Joseph Stanislawzyk, former Potomac State athlete, who received his BS degree at George Washington University and is now working on his master's degree at West Virginia University. He is married to a Keyser girl.

Emory Hamilton, Romney, W. Va., graduate of Shepherd College.

Richard DeHart, former Allegany High School athlete and graduate of West Virginia University.

The board expects to hear from more applicants by the time it holds its next session at Keyser on August 15.

Glen Kauffman chalked up his 16th triumph of the season yesterday when he pitched Corriganville to a 9-2 decision over Hyndman on the latter's field in a County Softball League contest.

The win kept Corriganville tied with Potomac Valley for third place, five games back of pace-setting LaVale and two games in the rear of the runner-up Wellersburg team.

Corriganville racked up 16 hits while Kauffman was yielding seven. Comer had three safeties in four trips for Corriganville.

LaVale bagged its fourth straight win at the expense of Stringtown, 7-3. Manager Gene Scaletta registered his third win of the season in a relief role, blanking the visitors after the second frame. Giles with a double and two singles and Aman, Basilio and Crabtree with two hits apiece headed the LaVale swatsmiths. J. Goss and G. Stair got Stringtown's two bingles.

Frank Toler returned to the win column by turning back Narrows Park for Wellersburg. The score was 10-2. Sheetz Scores Sixth Shutout

Eagles' Ace Beats Outdoor Club, 11-0

Al Sheetz turned in his sixth whitewashing job of the Rocking Chair Softball League season yesterday when he twirled the Fraternal Order of Eagles to an 11-0 victory over the front running Cumberland Outdoor Club at Campobello.

It was the second time that Sheetz had blanked the league leaders.

By winning, the Eagles reduced the lead of the ODC to a full game. Outdoor's record is 17-4 and the Eagles' 16-5.

The triumph was the sixth in a row for the Eagles and Sheetz's ninth win against two setbacks. He let the ODC down with three hits, two of which were of the infield variety, and fanned six. Jim Morrison, 15-game winner, suffered his third loss, yielding 17 hits.

Lou Riehl belted a first inning homer and added a pair of singles, Sammy DeLuca larruped a triple and two one-base knocks and Pete Elliott banged a double and two singles. Brady, Jones and Hite accounted for the Eagles' hits. The score:

OUTDOOR CLUB	000 000 0	0	3 2
F. O. EAGLES	234 200 x	11	17 0

Called War Profiteer

Sen. Langer Blasts Clark Griffith For Split-Admission Double Bills

Tigers, Yankees Will Figure In Contests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(INS)—Sen. Langer (R) N. D., today blasted Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, as a war profiteer for scheduling day-night doubleheaders with Detroit and New York.

Langer told the Senate that prices have skyrocketed since the Korean war began and added that the Nats' doubleheaders would be split-admissions "for the first time in Washington history."

The Senator shouted:

"Griffith says, 'I got to make myself some money.'

"So, here we have a millionaire making himself a companion of the profiteering herd—getting down in the gutter."

Langer called it a "contemptible . . . horribly disgusting spectacle." The doubleheaders with the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers are scheduled for Aug. 15 and Aug 29, respectively, at Griffith Stadium.

Griffith later told a reporter that Detroit suggested the split-up. He said the Yankees "didn't want to double up" but when he was asked whether he proposed the idea he said he "couldn't remember."

Regarding Langer's charges, the 80-year-old, peppery patriarch said that the Senator "ought to know better than that." He added:

"There is certainly no attempt to profiteer in splitting the games.

"We have to work these games into the schedule somehow, and the Yankees and the Tigers are in the thick of the pennant race and don't like doubleheaders."

Griffith said he has no present plans to schedule other separate admission twin-bills. He recalled, however, that the Boston Red Sox, the Brooklyn Dodgers and other teams have taken similar action during the present season.

Truman Gives Green Light To Baseball During Korean War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (INS) —President Truman gave organized baseball a green light today to continue on a "business as usual" basis during the Korean war.

Mr. Truman also told Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler that the world series should be played this fall just as it was planned.

Chandler told newsmen after the White House meeting that he offered "the services of baseball and my own services" in the Korean conflict. He also predicted that the game will not be crippled by men going into service because many players are above draft age limits.

Severson Cops Lead In Chicago Amateur Golf

Posts 3-Under-Par 69 To Head Field Of 150

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Excited Art Severson, 27-year-old University of Miami golf senior, raced in with a 3-under-par 69 after sundown today to beat out 150 colleagues for the first round lead in the All-American Men's Amateur Tourney at Tam O'Shanter.

Two days of qualifying play in the big golf carnival was completed today, leaving only 145 survivors from a starting field of 450 men and women players.

The All-American women's open enters the third round of 72-hole medal play tomorrow with Babe Zaharias of Chicago holding an eight stroke halfway lead with 146. The Babe, after a six-under-par course record of 70 for her first round, posted a regulation 76 today.

She is followed in the field of 29 women by Beverly Hanson, Pasadena, Calif., professional, with 76-78—154 and veteran amateur, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., with 76-78—154.

Petite Louise Suggs, the pro from Carrollton, Ga., was in the 155 bracket with 77-78, and the veteran campaigner, Patty Berg from Minneapolis, was next at 157 with rounds of 79-78.

The section of 90 men pros was completed today with an extended qualifying test for the $20,000 All-American tourney. Their first round opens tomorrow and draws all of golf's big name performers except Ben Hogan.

The qualifying deadline for 38 pros today was a modest 77. Seventeen got under the wire, led by two Chicago area golf instructors, George Keyes and Gene Battistoni, with one-under-par 71. Herman Schuarlau of Bloomington, Ill., and Paul Gross of Indianapolis followed with 72's.

So far the best score of the entire traffic jam is a 66, three over the course record, by unhearalded Jimmy Clark of Huntington Beach, Calif. He pegged it to top all pro qualifiers yesterday.

Most of today's action centered on the first round endeavors of 150 men amateurs. From this big contingent, only about 25 low scorers will survive for round No. 2 tomorrow.

The early simon pure leader was Jim McHale of Philadelphia, Pa., the ex-paratrooper who was on the U. S. Walker Cup team and went to the semi-finals of the British amateur this year.

The husky McHale banged a pair of 35's for 70. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, the British amateur champion seeking his third straight All-American crown, and Gene Ray Counter of Richmond, Ind., Purdue star, were a stroke behind at 71.

Schools Fined For Excessive Offers To Boys

Mississippi, Tulane, Georgia And LSU Are Penalized By Moore

By LEROY SIMMS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 4 (AP) — Four Southeastern Conference schools were fined and nine high school football stars barred from SEC league play today by Commissioner Bernie Moore.

Moore revealed the result of a widespread investigation of conference recruiting activities in a brief statement, issued after the commissioner left town for Chicago.

Mississippi was fined $500 in each of five player cases and also drew a $500 fine for engaging in summer football practice. Louisiana State was fined $500 in each of two cases and Georgia and Tulane drew $500 fines for one case each.

Moore's announcement said recruiting violations "resulted in excessive offers of financial aid or similar inducement" to players.

Such offers, he said, "could not be awarded under the grant-in-aid rule," which limits athletic awards to actual expenses and, in most cases, requires athletes to work for such expenses.

Boys Ruled Ineligible

All of the players involved were ruled ineligible for inter-collegiate sports within the Southeastern Conference. That does not mean, of course, that they may not play football at other colleges.

C. M. Smith, Mississippi's athletic director, promptly termed the fine against his school "A complete injustice." Dan Magill, Jr., Georgia publicity director, gave a similar statement.

With Moore out of town, there were no details of specific rules violations. Moore previously had declined comment on reports of an inquiry into recruiting methods.

The Southeastern opposed the current NCAA standards for athletic scholarships, but placed them in force last year. Formerly, the SEC granted athletes room, board, books and tuition and $10 per month for incidentals.

Now it limits such aid to actual expenses. In most cases, athletes must work for the expense money.

Those Ruled Out

The players barred include some of the south's top prep stars.

Those ruled out were:

Mississippi — Jimmy Cole, Roger L. Gaynor and Bill Russell, backs, and Ronald Case and Hugh Ballard, ends, all from Memphis and all 1949 stars there.

Tulane—Robert Holladay, Columbia, La., halfback. A 190-pounder, Holladay won the 100 and 220-yard dashes in track also.

Georgia — Charles King, Paris, Tenn., back, called one of the best ball carriers in that area in many years.

Louisiana State— William Burtchaell, tackle, and Hayden Mayeau, back, both stars of New Orleans' Holy Cross team.

Bernstein Goes To City Finals

Wins Over Clemmer, To Play Middlekamp

Maurice Bernstein advanced to the finals of the City tennis tournament yesterday evening on the Dingle courts by winning a closely contested semi-final match from Johnny Clemmer, 10-12, 6-3, 6-4. Notwithstanding the scores of the last two sets, most of the games were played at deuce with long and hard rallies, and either player might have been the winner.

Bernstein will play Lawrence Middlekamp, last year's city champion, in the finals Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on the Country Club courts.

Raschi Cops Before Biggest Night Crowd

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP) — Big Vic Raschi yanked the New York Yankees out of a depressing losing streak tonight, pitching a dazzling 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

With a crowd of 66,743 on hand—biggest night crowd for either league this season — Raschi passed out three measly singles in separate innings.

The three honored men to figure him out were Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and pitcher Bob Feller, the bottom end of Cleveland's batting order. It was Feller's eighth loss against 10 victories.

Though occasionally in a tight spot, Feller was able to hold the Yankees back except for one inning—the fifth.

Yaider has the Tigers blanked and had pitched five-hit ball and fanned nine until the roof fell in on him in the last of the 6th when five hits capped by Lewis' four-bagger beat him. The Dodgers pitcher failed to issue a walk.

Galen McGregor of the Tigers struck out 15 and gave up five passes. Both of the hits he yielded were homers by Regis Fair and Crawford. Lewis, Kenny Johnson and Joe Cioni had two hits each for the Tigers who now lead the Dan Division by three full games.

Led by Jerry Yankelevitz and Donald Bender, the Indians defeated the Braves at East Side by the score of 7-1. Bender drove in three runs with a homer, double and single while Yankelevitz had a perfect day at bat with four singles and two runs batted in. Bob Paye drove in the other two runs with a line drive to right field in the 6th. Don Irons allowed the Braves three hits and fanned seven. Tommy Reed's triple and Wolford's single in the 5th averted a shutout for the Braves. Arnone's Record 15-0 • Lakatos New KO Artist • Gaffney May Resign • Ridgeley Applicants

By C. V. BURNS

The longest winning streak enjoyed by any baseball pitcher in the tri-state area this season belongs to "Lefty" Arnone who has had the honor of chalking up 15 consecutive triumphs for two championship teams.

Undefeated Enardo from Eckhart won nine in a row for Beall High School's Bi-State Conference champions, including the playoff game with Allegany High School. Two of those wins were over non-league foes. In the league Arnone bagged 7 of Beall's 10 triumphs.

Since the close of the school campaign, the southpaw ace has been active in the Mountain District American Legion Junior League and his pitching brought Midland Post it's first championship in the loop. Manager Hugh Coleman's outfit won seven and lost one and Arnone's mark was 5-0, running his string to 14 for the season.

On Wednesday, Enardo, who has been dubbed "Moose" by his pals, turned back Hagerstown in the opening game of the series for the Legion's Area "A" title in Maryland. Today the junior nines hook up again at Midland and while Arnone is not slated to start he may be in there blazing his fast one through if Hagerstown gets rough. If the series is extended to the limit, "Moose" is certain to see action at Midland on Sunday.

In addition to winning 15 games without a reverse, including four shutouts, the Eckhart youngster has earned somewhat of a "rep" as a strikeout artist, and in no game has he ever issued more than three passes.

In the nine schoolboy contests for Beall, "Lefty" fired the third strike past 84 and issued 19 passes. In the six winning games for Midland, Arnone has wiffed 53 and passed only seven. For the 15 contests he has sent 137 back to the bench via the strikeout route, an average of nine per game, and has given up 26 free tickets or an average of 1.7 per contest, which is pretty nitty pitching.

Here's Arnone's complete record of wins for the current season:

Beall 10, Fort Ashby 0
Beall 8, Barton 0
Beall 5, Central 2
Beall 4, LaSalle 3
Beall 7, Hyndman 1
Beall 5, Hyndman 3
Beall 11, Central 5
Beall 17, Bruce 2
Beall 9, Allegany 4

Midland 3, Lonaconing 0
Midland 3, Westernport 2
Midland 4, Westernport 0
Midland 9, Cumberland 5
Midland 18, Frostburg 3

Midland 13, Hagerstown 4

Three pitchers may get an opportunity to become the first 10-game winners in their respective leagues in contests today and tomorrow.

Tommy Allen, strikeout king of the Interstate League with 112 victims to date has won nine and lost 2 and may pitch against the Moose at Stitcher Field tomorrow.

Bill Haberlein, a 9-2 winner for Zihlman, may try for No. 10 tomorrow against Barrelville.

And Henry Salyan, the clever southpaw, will likely go after No. 10 today or Sunday when the Hyndman Firemen play the Old Germans at Stitcher Field and the Republican Club tossers at Lonaconing. Henry's boasting a 9-3 record to date.

The recent appointment of James T. "Jim" Gaffney as manager of the local B. F. Goodrich Store may mean that LaSalle High School will have to hunt a football coach for the coming season.

Gaffney, former Tennessee backfield star and later with the Washington Redskins, was assistant to Phil Coralan last year and upon the latter's resignation this spring "Jim" was elevated to the post of head coach of the Explorers.

Gaffney feels that his new position as store manager will occupy much of his time and little will be left for coaching football.

"Jim" will talk things over with on the latter's return to Cumberbrother Godfrey John, principal, upland about August 15.

If Gaffney is forced to give up coaching, and that's almost certain, LaSalle will have to line up a successor in a hurry as the Explorers are billed to open their campaign just one month from Tuesday and that's September 8 when Romney High plays here.

LaSalle has a 10-game schedule and there are no soft spots.

Youngstown, Ohio, has produced many good fighters and quite a few of them have shown in Cumberland.

The latest fistic sensation from the Ohio city is Elmer Lakatos, lightweight, who has scored six knockouts in as many pro matches. His latest victim was Floyd Black who was massacred in the third round at Pittsburgh on Tuesday night.

Black is the fellow who appeared here twice — once as Floyd Black and later as Floogie White. He was barred from the amateur ranks by the Pittsburgh AAU group.

Jimmie Jones, the best of the fighters from Youngstown, appeared in a match at Frostburg that ended abruptly when his opponent, Barney Adair, fell out of the ring and injured his spine.

Then there was Dick Evans, who was the victim of a sensational knockout scored here by Mike Kearney, of Huntington, W. Va.

Other good fighters out of Youngstown were Harold Scarney, Al Palmer, Dick Metty, Buck Mathewson, Battling Romaine, Sammy Cimminello, Tony and Jimmie Zill and "Dude" Murphy, all of whom boxed here.

When the Mineral County School Board met this week to consider applicants for the post of football and basketball coach at Ridgeley High School, left vacant when Jesse E. Riggleman resigned, three names were submitted. They were:

Joseph Stanislawzyk, former Potomac State athlete, who received his BS degree at George Washington University and is now working on his master's degree at West Virginia University. He is married to a Keyser girl.

Emory Hamilton, Romney, W. Va., graduate of Shepherd College.

Richard DeHart, former Allegany High School athlete and graduate of West Virginia University.

The board expects to hear from more applicants by the time it holds its next session at Keyser on August 15.

Eagles' Ace Beats Outdoor Club, 11-0

Al Sheetz turned in his sixth whitewashing job of the Rocking Chair Softball League season yesterday when he twirled the Fraternal Order of Eagles to an 11-0 victory over the front running Cumberland Outdoor Club at Campobello.

It was the second time that Sheetz had blanked the league leaders.

By winning, the Eagles reduced the lead of the ODC to a full game. Outdoor's record is 17-4 and the Eagles' 16-5.

The triumph was the sixth in a row for the Eagles and Sheetz's ninth win against two setbacks. He let the ODC down with three hits, two of which were of the infield variety, and fanned six. Jim Morrison, 15-game winner, suffered his third loss, yielding 17 hits.

Called War Profiteer
Sen. Langer Blasts Clark Griffith For Split-Admission Double Bills

Tigers, Yankees Will Figure In Contests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(INS)—Sen. Langer (R) N. D., today blasted Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, as a war profiteer for scheduling day-night doubleheaders with Detroit and New York.

Langer told the Senate that prices have skyrocketed since the Korean war began and added that the Nats' doubleheaders would be split-admissions "for the first time in Washington history."

The Senator shouted:

"Griffith says, 'I got to make myself some money.'

"So, here we have a millionaire making himself a companion of the profiteering herd—getting down in the gutter."

Langer called it a "contemptible . . . horribly disgusting spectacle." The doubleheaders with the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers are scheduled for Aug. 15 and Aug 29, respectively, at Griffith Stadium.

Griffith later told a reporter that Detroit suggested the split-up. He said the Yankees "didn't want to double up" but when he was asked whether he proposed the idea he said he "couldn't remember."

Regarding Langer's charges, the 80-year-old, peppery patriarch said that the Senator "ought to know better than that." He added:

"There is certainly no attempt to profiteer in splitting the games.

"We have to work these games into the schedule somehow, and the Yankees and the Tigers are in the thick of the pennant race and don't like doubleheaders."

Griffith said he has no present plans to schedule other separate admission twin-bills. He recalled, however, that the Boston Red Sox, the Brooklyn Dodgers and other teams have taken similar action during the present season.

Truman Gives Green Light To Baseball During Korean War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (INS)—President Truman gave organized baseball a green light today to continue on a "business as usual" basis during the Korean war.

Mr. Truman also told Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler that the world series should be played this fall just as it was planned.

Chandler told newsmen after the White House meeting that he offered "the services of baseball and my own services" in the Korean conflict. He also predicted that the game will not be crippled by men going into service because many players are above draft age limits.

Severson Cops Lead In Chicago Amateur Golf

Posts 3-Under-Par 69 To Head Field Of 150

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Excited Art Severson, 27-year-old University of Miami golf senior, raced in with a 3-under-par 69 after sundown today to beat out 150 colleagues for the first round lead in the All-American Men's Amateur Tourney at Tam O'Shanter.

Two days of qualifying play in the big golf carnival was completed today, leaving only 145 survivors from a starting field of 450 men and women players.

The All-American women's open enters the third round of 72-hole medal play tomorrow with Babe Zaharias of Chicago holding an eight stroke halfway lead with 146. The Babe, after a six-under-par course record of 70 for her first round, posted a regulation 76 today.

She is followed in the field of 29 women by Beverly Hanson, Pasadena, Calif., professional, with 76-78—154 and veteran amateur, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., with 76-78—154.

Petite Louise Suggs, the pro from Carrollton, Ga., was in the 155 bracket with 77-78, and the veteran campaigner, Patty Berg from Minneapolis, was next at 157 with rounds of 79-78.

The section of 90 men pros was completed today with an extended qualifying test for the $20,000 All-American tourney. Their first round opens tomorrow and draws all of golf's big name performers except Ben Hogan.

The qualifying deadline for 38 pros today was a modest 77. Seventeen got under the wire, led by two Chicago area golf instructors, George Keyes and Gene Battistoni, with one-under-par 71. Herman Schuarlau of Bloomington, Ill., and Paul Gross of Indianapolis followed with 72's.

So far the best score of the entire traffic jam is a 66, three over the course record, by unhearalded Jimmy Clark of Huntington Beach, Calif. He pegged it to top all pro qualifiers yesterday.

Most of today's action centered on the first round endeavors of 150 men amateurs. From this big contingent, only about 25 low scorers will survive for round No. 2 tomorrow.

The early simon pure leader was Jim McHale of Philadelphia, Pa., the ex-paratrooper who was on the U. S. Walker Cup team and went to the semi-finals of the British amateur this year.

The husky McHale banged a pair of 35's for 70. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, the British amateur champion seeking his third straight All-American crown, and Gene Ray Counter of Richmond, Ind., Purdue star, were a stroke behind at 71.

Schools Fined For Excessive Offers To Boys

Mississippi, Tulane, Georgia And LSU Are Penalized By Moore

By LEROY SIMMS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 4 (AP) — Four Southeastern Conference schools were fined and nine high school football stars barred from SEC league play today by Commissioner Bernie Moore.

Moore revealed the result of a widespread investigation of conference recruiting activities in a brief statement, issued after the commissioner left town for Chicago.

Mississippi was fined $500 in each of five player cases and also drew a $500 fine for engaging in summer football practice. Louisiana State was fined $500 in each of two cases and Georgia and Tulane drew $500 fines for one case each.

Moore's announcement said recruiting violations "resulted in excessive offers of financial aid or similar inducement" to players.

Such offers, he said, "could not be awarded under the grant-in-aid rule," which limits athletic awards to actual expenses and, in most cases, requires athletes to work for such expenses.

Boys Ruled Ineligible

All of the players involved were ruled ineligible for inter-collegiate sports within the Southeastern Conference. That does not mean, of course, that they may not play football at other colleges.

C. M. Smith, Mississippi's athletic director, promptly termed the fine against his school "A complete injustice." Dan Magill, Jr., Georgia publicity director, gave a similar statement.

With Moore out of town, there were no details of specific rules violations. Moore previously had declined comment on reports of an inquiry into recruiting methods.

The Southeastern opposed the current NCAA standards for athletic scholarships, but placed them in force last year. Formerly, the SEC granted athletes room, board, books and tuition and $10 per month for incidentals.

Now it limits such aid to actual expenses. In most cases, athletes must work for the expense money.

Those Ruled Out

The players barred include some of the south's top prep stars.

Those ruled out were:

Mississippi — Jimmy Cole, Roger L. Gaynor and Bill Russell, backs, and Ronald Case and Hugh Ballard, ends, all from Memphis and all 1949 stars there.

Tulane—Robert Holladay, Columbia, La., halfback. A 190-pounder, Holladay won the 100 and 220-yard dashes in track also.

Georgia — Charles King, Paris, Tenn., back, called one of the best ball carriers in that area in many years.

Louisiana State— William Burtchaell, tackle, and Hayden Mayeau, back, both stars of New Orleans' Holy Cross team.

Bernstein Goes To City Finals

Wins Over Clemmer, To Play Middlekamp

Maurice Bernstein advanced to the finals of the City tennis tournament yesterday evening on the Dingle courts by winning a closely contested semi-final match from Johnny Clemmer, 10-12, 6-3, 6-4. Notwithstanding the scores of the last two sets, most of the games were played at deuce with long and hard rallies, and either player might have been the winner.

Bernstein will play Lawrence Middlekamp, last year's city champion, in the finals Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on the Country Club courts.

Honey's Gal, Spleen Score At Saratoga

McMorrow Is Aboard Steeplechase Victor

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. Aug. (AP) — F. Eugene Dixon Jr.'s Honey's Gal and Justin Funkhouser's Spleen, a French-bred, were returned winners of the twin features before a crowd of 9047 this afternoon. The first named, with George Hettinger in the saddle, scored with ease from eight other three-year-old fillies in the 26th running of The Test, while Spleen, an outsider at $32.80, carried the Irish Jockey, Leo McMorrow to his first important triumph in this country in the Saratoga National Maiden Hurdle. Honey's Gal was the second choice at $7.30.

McMorrow, who won the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, aboard the 66 to 1 Russian Hero in 1949, was wreathed in smiles as he dismounted from Spleen. It required all of his riding skill indeed to keep Spleen going long enough to beat Brooks Parker's Wunderprinz, a German-bred gray gelding, by a half-length in the about one mile and three-quarter fixture over hurdles. Wunderprinz, far back to the last turn, closed like mad and might have won had he not been blocked somewhat. Extra points was a threatening third, only a head farther away, with Boom Boom, the favorite, another nose back in fourth place. Six started. Boom Boom was rank in the running. He bore out at all turns.

Honey's Gal took the lead at the head of the stretch in the test and pulled away from Honeywell Stable's Faneuil Miss by four lengths, turning the 7 furlongs on a dead track in 1:24 2-5. This marked her fifth victory of the year, netting $6,470. Oddly, she was not nominated for the historic Alabama on Aug. 23, oldest stakes race in the country for fillies.

Fernandez Rides Three Winners At Monmouth

MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., Aug. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Sam Lewin's Happy Task, generally regarded as a sprinter, showed good tenacity today to win the mile and a sixteenth featured event by a head over J. J. Colando's Rock Span.

Less than a length farther back was Walter Wickham's Woodford Sir.

A bright sun dried out the track during the afternoon and the official classification at the time of the feature was "Good." Happy Task, a $6.60 second choice, was timed in 1:45 1-5, and was the second winner of the afternoon for Fernandez.

Fox Time, who raced coupled as an entry with Monte, carried the bulk of support, and also the most early speed. He was through after six furlongs and Happy Task moved to the fore. His lead was narrowed through the final furlong but he held on gamely for the purse. A crowd of 16,607 witnessed the day's races.

Fernando Fernandez earned a consecutive riding triple astride Fresh Breeze in the seventh event. The winner was favorite and paid $5.00 for $2.

Honey's Gal, Spleen Score At Saratoga

McMorrow Is Aboard Steeplechase Victor

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. Aug. (AP) — F. Eugene Dixon Jr.'s Honey's Gal and Justin Funkhouser's Spleen, a French-bred, were returned winners of the twin features before a crowd of 9047 this afternoon. The first named, with George Hettinger in the saddle, scored with ease from eight other three-year-old fillies in the 26th running of The Test, while Spleen, an outsider at $32.80, carried the Irish Jockey, Leo McMorrow to his first important triumph in this country in the Saratoga National Maiden Hurdle. Honey's Gal was the second choice at $7.30.

McMorrow, who won the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, aboard the 66 to 1 Russian Hero in 1949, was wreathed in smiles as he dismounted from Spleen. It required all of his riding skill indeed to keep Spleen going long enough to beat Brooks Parker's Wunderprinz, a German-bred gray gelding, by a half-length in the about one mile and three-quarter fixture over hurdles. Wunderprinz, far back to the last turn, closed like mad and might have won had he not been blocked somewhat. Extra points was a threatening third, only a head farther away, with Boom Boom, the favorite, another nose back in fourth place. Six started. Boom Boom was rank in the running. He bore out at all turns.

Honey's Gal took the lead at the head of the stretch in the test and pulled away from Honeywell Stable's Faneuil Miss by four lengths, turning the 7 furlongs on a dead track in 1:24 2-5. This marked her fifth victory of the year, netting $6,470. Oddly, she was not nominated for the historic Alabama on Aug. 23, oldest stakes race in the country for fillies.

Fernandez Rides Three Winners At Monmouth

MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., Aug. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Sam Lewin's Happy Task, generally regarded as a sprinter, showed good tenacity today to win the mile and a sixteenth featured event by a head over J. J. Colando's Rock Span.

Less than a length farther back was Walter Wickham's Woodford Sir.

A bright sun dried out the track during the afternoon and the official classification at the time of the feature was "Good." Happy Task, a $6.60 second choice, was timed in 1:45 1-5, and was the second winner of the afternoon for Fernandez.

Fox Time, who raced coupled as an entry with Monte, carried the bulk of support, and also the most early speed. He was through after six furlongs and Happy Task moved to the fore. His lead was narrowed through the final furlong but he held on gamely for the purse. A crowd of 16,607 witnessed the day's races.

Fernando Fernandez earned a consecutive riding triple astride Fresh Breeze in the seventh event. The winner was favorite and paid $5.00 for $2.

You can keep your fresh look aglowing all through the day with these secrets of the Powers Girls!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

EVERY man's eye lights up these days (or any other time of the year) when it lights on a girl who can keep her bath-fresh look all through the day. She's welcome balm to heat-weary, bedraggled mankind.

And you can bet your best bottle of perfume that the girl who has that, look feels just as fresh as she looks. That's the secret!

But how is such freshness sustained through busy, hot-weather hours?

By unflagging attention to the small details of grooming, say the Powers Girls, who are noted for their success in such matters.

Start off right in the morning with a tepid shower, a pat of deodorant, a cologne body rub and a dusting of boric powder. That's the basic treatment. Then, be sure that your make-up is light enough in weight for skin comfort and that it is applied with all the care you'd use for a great occasion. See to it, too, that your coiffure starts the day with every shining strand in place.

Add spanking fresh clothes that are cool looking and feeling to this foundation and you will not only look good to yourself but to everyone else. It's this last mentioned reaction that will give you a sustained inner confidence, bring you both admirable poise and admiring glances through even the most trying day.

But that's only the basis for sustained, hot-weather charm. Throughout the day, remember to employ all the refurbishers known to the feminine world. Give your grooming a frequent refresher course.

Here's the Powers Girls advice: A light scented cologne is the most effective refresher there is. Something spicy, floral, or citrus is the most discriminating choice. Such scents are never overpowering, and you can use them generously, when the weather gets its toughest.

Cologne at Work

Smooth liquid or stick cologne on your wrists, or in the crook of your arm. Enjoy its rejuvenating powers as you let it dry by itself. Press it gently to your temples or the pulse of your throat. To dispel over-moist hands, smooth cologne on the palms and between the fingers.

If your scent changes slightly after wearing, you may be one of the persons who should use it on your elbows alone; these areas have no sebacious glands, which react on scents at times.

Keep a bottle or stick of your favorite cologne on your dressing table, near your bath, and in a purse-size container when you're away from home. Use it for your pleasure and as the trademark of your fastidiousness.

Monday: Is your manner something special?

Area Road Pay Scale Up To Union Rates

Although most state highway contract wage scales set up by the State Commission on Prevailing Wages are below union scales, Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties for the past several years have had union scales set up by the Department of Labor.

John B. Funk, chairman of the commission, made this statement while reporting from his Baltimore office yesterday that 80 per cent of the rates approved for the state were below union levels.

Funk said building construction rates for improvements at Frostburg State Teachers College and Miners Hospital, Frostburg, would be set at another meeting of the commission Tuesday in Baltimore.

Such rates must be specified in all contracts advertised from now on, Funk said.

Then, be sure that your make-up is light enough in weight for skin comfort and that it is applied with all the care you'd use for a great occasion. See to it, too, that your coiffure starts the day with every shining strand in place.

Add spanking fresh clothes that are cool looking and feeling to this foundation and you will not only look good to yourself but to everyone else. It's this last mentioned reaction that will give you a sustained inner confidence, bring you both admirable poise and admiring glances through even the most trying day.

But that's only the basis for sustained, hot-weather charm. Throughout the day, remember to employ all the refurbishers known to the feminine world. Give your grooming a frequent refresher course.

Here's the Powers Girls advice: A light scented cologne is the most effective refresher there is. Something spicy, floral, or citrus is the most discriminating choice. Such scents are never overpowering, and you can use them generously, when the weather gets its toughest.

Area Road Pay Scale Up To Union Rates

Although most state highway contract wage scales set up by the State Commission on Prevailing Wages are below union scales, Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties for the past several years have had union scales set up by the Department of Labor.

John B. Funk, chairman of the commission, made this statement while reporting from his Baltimore office yesterday that 80 per cent of the rates approved for the state were below union levels.

Funk said building construction rates for improvements at Frostburg State Teachers College and Miners Hospital, Frostburg, would be set at another meeting of the commission Tuesday in Baltimore.

Such rates must be specified in all contracts advertised from now on, Funk said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends who offered sympathy in our loss, the death of our loved one, Mrs. Bessie Welsh, who died July 30th, 1950. We wish to extend thanks to Rev. Keesecker, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars.

Husband and Daughter,
Ray and Helen Welsh.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pvt. Eugene Deffinbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Deffinbaugh, who died in France, August 5, 1944.

Sometimes long after the sun is gone,
As we watch at the close of day,
'Mid the evening shadows gray,
Long after a beautiful life has gone,
To the fair World on High,
Our lives are bright with a lingering light,
For a true life cannot die.
Sadly missed by
Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends who offered sympathy in our loss, the death of our loved one, Mrs. Bessie Welsh, who died July 30th, 1950. We wish to extend thanks to Rev. Keesecker, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars.

Husband and Daughter,
Ray and Helen Welsh.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pvt. Eugene Deffinbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Deffinbaugh, who died in France, August 5, 1944.
Sometimes long after the sun is gone,
As we watch at the close of day,
'Mid the evening shadows gray,
Long after a beautiful life has gone,
To the fair World on High,
Our lives are bright with a lingering light,
For a true life cannot die.
Sadly missed by
Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Elsmar Stable's Gillie Young, an 11-1 outsider, deserted the claiming ranks today with an upset three-quarters of a length victory over Jack Gavegnano's 4-5 favorite Diving Devil in the mile and 70 yards allowance race today at Suffolk Downs.

After Gillie Young finished the route in 1:44, J. H. Carr's Swaddle gained the show. Gillie Young's triumph was impressie. He was kept off the pace by veteran Jockey Jimmy DeWitt and then came fast through the homestretch under the whip. Diving Devil was unable to find racing room until it was too late.

Gillie Young paid $25.40, $5.60 and $4.00.

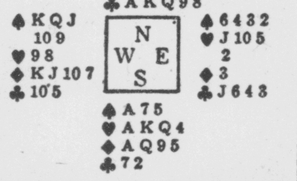
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

THIRD STRING ON BOW

IT IS KINDA nice to have a second string to your bow. But two are not certain to prove enough, especially in the play of a bridge hand. If you are able to plan so that you use both of the two strings and also develop still another, or third, string, your chances are just that much better. When you do use such a third string, you don't want it to be one which is marked in advance as a probable failure. Not if you are able to fasten a string to your bow which is a sure winner in case the first two fail.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♣	2 ♠
3 ♦	3 ♠	Pass	Pass
3 NT

With his big hand, and with North able to make a free bid of his clubs after West overcalled, the South player at each table of a team match bid himself into a No Trump game. Likewise each West led his spade K. One South failed to make the contract and the other pulled it through. Can you figure out how?

The unsuccessful declarer held up until the third round of spades before he used his A, then sought an even break of hearts, which failed when West discarded on the third,, and made his next effort by seeking an even division of clubs. That too missed fire, so the only remaining chance for the ninth trick was the diamond finesse. He felt he had been quite careful in playing hearts first, so that, if both that suit and clubs refused to break, he would be in the dummy to finesse. But the diamond K won the Q and spades then beat South.

The other declarer realized that the diamond finesse was marked to lose. West's overcall making it heavily likely he had the K. So he used a different third string on his bow. He won the second spade with the A, next raked in three clubs and three hearts. As those suits failed to divide evenly, he had the lead in his own hand, together with a spade which he could lead to West. The latter, having discarded one of his spades, in order to keep his diamond K guarded, could take only one more spade and then had to lead a diamond into the A-Q. If he had blanked the diamond K, South would have dropped it with the A instead of throwing West in with the spade.

Your Weekend Question

Can you think of any special use of a bid of the opponents' suit, late in the auction, at the four level, except to indicate ability to win the first trick in the suit or lack of losers in it?

Gentle Rise Lifts Stock Market To Six-Week High

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—The stock market touched a six-week high today.

A gentle rise was enough to lift leading shares a few cents to more than $1 a share. Most gains, though, were measured in pennies.

Motor, oil, liquor, chemical and an assortment of industrial manufacturing issues were conspicuous among the gainers.

Rails did well at the outset but ended with a ragged look.

Yesterday's two favorites, Lima-Habilton Locomotive and Baldwin Locomotive, were chopped down.

Neither buyers or sellers were in any rush to do business and sales amounted to 1,600,000 shares. This compared with 1,650,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .6 of one point to 76.7. This was a peak since June 23, the last session before President Truman announced our new role in Asia. Prices tumbled following the announcement but the losses have been cut substantially during the past three weeks.

The market labored today, and has labored most of the week, under a cloud of uncertainty created by congressional efforts to decide on what kind of war legislation to enact.

Also clamping down on trading enthusiasm has been the course of the Korean fighting. A good many Wall Streeters still believe there is a strong possibility that U. S. forces will be thrown off the Korean peninsula and consequently have cut down on their market commitments.

Lima-Hamilton, down ½ at 11, and Baldwin Locomotive, off ⅜ at 14¾, were the two most active issues for the second day running. The two advanced sharply yesterday on news of a proposed merger.

tion policies; and that warning against the policies, such as came from Senator Byrd of Virginia, was met by Mr. Truman in a spirit of derision.

Yet however self-confident Mr. Truman may have been in his attitude toward Congress in the past, his attitude since the day of the Korean crisis has been as far as possible from that. In his early request to Congress for economic controls, he asked for fewer than Congress was willing to grant. And some of the controls he asked for involved discontinuance of policies he had been following. Much of the pre-Korean prosperity in which he took pride and for which he assumed credit, had been based on expansion of credit, and Mr. Truman, in his first request of Congress for controls, asked for checks of several forms of credit. In that same early request of Congress, Mr. Truman asked for authority to put on the market the immense stores of food accumulated by the Department of Agriculture in order to support prices of farm crops. That would be a limitation on a function which Mr. Truman has previously cherished, and a foregoing of political advantage supposed to go with price support of farm crops.

After Gillie Young finished the route in 1:44, J. H. Carr's Swaddle gained the show. Gillie Young's triumph was impressie. He was kept off the pace by veteran Jockey Jimmy DeWitt and then came fast through the homestretch under the whip. Diving Devil was unable to find racing room until it was too late.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

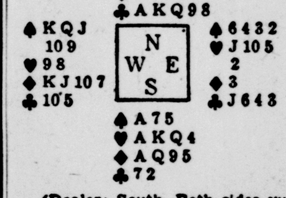
"The Authority on Authorities"

THIRD STRING ON BOW

IT IS KINDA nice to have a second string to your bow. But two are not certain to prove enough, especially in the play of a bridge hand. If you are able to plan so that you use both of the two strings and also develop still another, or third, string, your chances are just that much better. When you do use such a third string, you don't want it to be one which is marked in advance as a probable failure. Not if you are able to fasten a string to your bow which is a sure winner in case the first two fail.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♣	2 ♠
3 ♦	3 ♠	Pass	Pass
3 NT

With his big hand, and with North able to make a free bid of his clubs after West overcalled, the South player at each table of a team match bid himself into a No Trump game. Likewise each West led his spade K. One South failed to make the contract and the other pulled it through. Can you figure out how?

The unsuccessful declarer held up until the third round of spades before he used his A, then sought an even break of hearts, which failed when West discarded on the third,, and made his next effort by seeking an even division of clubs. That too missed fire, so the only remaining chance for the ninth trick was the diamond finesse. He felt he had been quite careful in playing hearts first, so that, if both that suit and clubs refused to break, he would be in the dummy to finesse. But the diamond K won the Q and spades then beat South.

The other declarer realized that the diamond finesse was marked to lose, West's overcall making it heavily likely he had the K. So he used a different third string on his bow. He won the second spade with the A, next raked in three clubs and three hearts. As those suits failed to divide evenly, he had the lead in his own hand, together with a spade which he could lead to West. The latter, having discarded one of his spades, in order to keep his diamond K guarded, could take only one more spade and then had to lead a diamond into the A-Q. If he had blanked the diamond K, South would have dropped it with the A instead of throwing West in with the spade.

Your Weekend Question

Can you think of any special use of a bid of the opponents' suit, late in the auction, at the four level, except to indicate ability to win the first trick in the suit or lack of losers in it?

Gentle Rise Lifts Stock Market To Six-Week High

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—The stock market touched a six-week high today.

A gentle rise was enough to lift leading shares a few cents to more than $1 a share. Most gains, though, were measured in pennies.

Motor, oil, liquor, chemical and an assortment of industrial manufacturing issues were conspicuous among the gainers.

Rails did well at the outset but ended with a ragged look.

Yesterday's two favorites, Lima-Habilton Locomotive and Baldwin Locomotive, were chopped down.

Neither buyers or sellers were in any rush to do business and sales amounted to 1,600,000 shares. This compared with 1,650,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .6 of one point to 76.7. This was a peak since June 23, the last session before President Truman announced our new role in Asia. Prices tumbled following the announcement but the losses have been cut substantially during the past three weeks.

The market labored today, and has labored most of the week, under a cloud of uncertainty created by congressional efforts to decide on what kind of war legislation to enact.

Also clamping down on trading enthusiasm has been the course of the Korean fighting. A good many Wall Streeters still believe there is a strong possibility that U. S. forces will be thrown off the Korean peninsula and consequently have cut down on their market commitments.

Lima-Hamilton, down ½ at 11, and Baldwin Locomotive, off ⅜ at 14¾, were the two most active issues for the second day running. The two advanced sharply yesterday on news of a proposed merger.

tion policies; and that warning against the policies, such as came from Senator Byrd of Virginia, was met by Mr. Truman in a spirit of derision.

Yet however self-confident Mr. Truman may have been in his attitude toward Congress in the past, his attitude since the day of the Korean crisis has been as far as possible from that. In his early request to Congress for economic controls, he asked for fewer than Congress was willing to grant. And some of the controls he asked for involved discontinuance of policies he had been following. Much of the pre-Korean prosperity in which he took pride and for which he assumed credit, had been based on expansion of credit, and Mr. Truman, in his first request of Congress for controls, asked for checks of several forms of credit. In that same early request of Congress, Mr. Truman asked for authority to put on the market the immense stores of food accumulated by the Department of Agriculture in order to support prices of farm crops. That would be a limitation on a function which Mr. Truman has previously cherished, and a foregoing of political advantage supposed to go with price support of farm crops.

Roy Tasco Davis Outlines Gubernatorial Platform

Montgomery County GOP Candidate Hits State Extravagance

Senator Roy Tasco Davis of Montgomery County, Republican aspirant to the governorship of Maryland, in a conference here yesterday afternoon with local GOP leaders and the press, set forth a party program and policy calling for more economical government in the state, and greater participation in government by the people.

Senator Davis, in answer to spontaneous questions revealed that he believes:

(1) The sales tax should be reduced and the law greatly modified with some of the funds returned in cash to the counties and incorporated communities.

(2) A Constitutional Amendment should be fostered and passed, providing for Home Rule of all municipalities of 5,000 or more population in the state.

(3) All appointed or elected commissions in the state should be bipartisan.

(4) A more equitable plan of real estate assessments should be adopted. The practice of 'pyramiding property values and increasing the tax burden on property owners should cease.

(5) State income tax and state real estate tax should be reduced and discontinued if possible, since the sales tax plan raises enough to offset these.

(6) School boards in the counties should be taken out of politics and not be appointed by the governor. They should be elected. If this is not feasible, then each board should at least be bi-partisan.

(7) State institutions should purchase Maryland coal and other Maryland commodities they use in preference to any other.

(8) The State Planning Commission, or some other state agency, should give adequate assistance to areas of unemployment and should have available programs of public works which could be put into operation as work relief jobs when economic situations warrant.

(9) The state fiscal policy should be one of complete economy, especially at a time when the federal government must place a heavier tax burden on the people to raise funds for defense.

(10) The governor should inaugurate and have prepared a long-range and permanent program of civil defense and internal security to meet any crisis or emergency which might arise in war or peacetime. Such a plan should be in the hands of responsible people.

Senator Davis, who was accompanied here by John Reeves of Montgomery County, his campaign manager, and Al Ady, formerly editor of the Montgomery County Sentinel, his public relations counsel, said he has no "personal or pet peeves" against the administration. He declared however, that he believes many people are being misled on the sales tax question, and that this additional tax burden was not necessary.

In the last year of Governor Harry Nice's administration, he recalled, the state budget was $31,000,000. In the last year of Governor Herbert R. O'Conor's administration the state budget was $48,000,000. But in Governor William Preston Lane's present budget the amount is $143,000,000.

Favors Bond Issues

Senator Davis said he wants to give credit where credit is due and admits that school, road and institution improvements have been made. But he believes it is too great a tax burden to pay cash for capital improvements when these costs could be spread over 20 or 30 years with bond issues and the tax burden reduced perhaps fifty per cent.

He said when the sales tax plan, which he and other Republicans in the Senate and House opposed, was first offered, "our eyes bulged with the proposed picture of road improvements." These improvements were to be made as a result of increases in all kinds of taxes and other shifts of costs, he explained, in a period of five years.

Now it develops, that the picture has changed and only about one-third of the projected improvements will be culminated in the five-year program.

Political Patronage

"The money the state has collected has not been stolen and I am not accusing anyone of theft," Senator Davis asserted. "But I do believe there has been little effort at economy, and I believe many unnecessary political jobs have been created which do not make permanent improvements in the state."

Senator Davis was elected to the State Senate in 1946 after being drafted by the Montgomery County Republicans as their candidate.

Career Diplomat

He has been a life-long Republican and has spent much of his lifetime in public service. He served as American minister and ambassador to Costa Rica and Panama, was mediator in the boundary controversy between Honduras and Guatemala and more recently has visited the Far East, stopping at Korea, Japan and the Islands.

He made this trip in the interest of education and the establishment of schools along with the exchange of students and teachers in American schools and colleges.

Senator Davis plans to remain in the county a couple of days, and last night visited Frostburg and Lonaconing. He said he wants to return here in about two or three weeks as his schedule of touring the state calls for several more visits to Allegany and Garrett counties.

Truman Gives Beall Parkway Bill Pen

President Truman presented to Rep. J. Glenn Beall one of the pens with which he signed the Baltimore-Washington parkway bill on Thursday.

Rep. Beall is a member of the Public Works Committee of the House and the sub-committee on roads.

The only barrier to the project is passage by the Senate of an item in the House-enacted Federal aid highway bill which would make $3,000,000 available for the government's share in the project.

Defense Council Starts Program Of Organization

Director Barger Outlines Procedure

The Advisory Council for Civil Defense of Allegany County held its first meeting last night in the auditorium of the City Hall, and plans were started for a county-wide organization.

William Barger, county director, explained that the program will include a facilities survey of material, equipment, manpower, shelter, etc., which can be put into use and operation in the event of an emergency here or in the area.

Such questions as fire and police protection, public health, medical service, relief and rehabilitation, demolition, engineering and emergency construction, public services such as utilities, power, water, gas, electricity, transportation, communications, and information, must all be coordinated and correlated by the council, Barger explained.

The Advisory Council will probably be the top-flight group in the county defense program, and will have the task of organizing and selecting hundreds of volunteers into the huge operation before the work is fully completed, Barger said.

The responsibility of setting up the Civil Defense plan was delegated to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners with a request by the state Civil Defense director to appoint a county director. After the board appointed Barger, he in turn recommended the names of members of his council and these were approved by the commissioners.

County Board President Charles N. Wilkinson and Commissioner James Holmes attended last night's meeting and both expressed their interest in having the program take shape as speedily as possible.

Other members of the Advisory Council include City Commissioner John J. Long, Fire Chief John Brennan, Police Chief Robert Emmett Flynn, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, Mrs. Lee Witherup, Major Elmer Wall, Henry W. Price, Howard M. Smith, G. Bates Chaires, George M. Hitchcock and F. Allan Weatherholt.

There were several other interested spectators at the meeting last night, including a number of people who want to participate in some phase of the activity as it gets underway.

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Clark, Baltimore, former residents, announce the birth of a daughter July 28 in Mount Sinai Hospital, Baltimore. Mrs. Clark is the former Miss Wilma Walters.

GOP Gubernatorial Candidate Visits County

State Senator Roy Tasco Davis, 59, of Chevy Chase, Montgomery County, visited the city and county yesterday to talk with Republican Party leaders about his campaign for the nomination on the party ticket for governor of Maryland. Shown second from the left, Senator Davis outlined his platform and discussed phases of it with some of the county Republican leaders, the press and radio. At the left is A. Charles Stewart, candidate for register of wills; next is Senator Davis, Fred B. Driscoll, candidate for the House of Delegates, and Edgar M. Lewis, member of the GOP State Central Committee.

Fletcher Will Protest Action On Auto Bid

Board Accepts Another Bid

C. P. Fletcher, president of the Fletcher Garage, reported last night he has instructed his attorney to protest the action of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday in accepting the bid of the Frantz Oldsmobile Garage for a car to replace one used by Sheriff Edward Muir.

He termed the action in awarding the bid he said was submitted in good faith, to other than the low bidder unfair to the taxpayers and said he had received over 30 telephone calls asking him to protest the action.

The Frantz bid was higher than that of the only other bidder, the Fletcher Garage.

However, Sheriff Muir said the Frantz car better suited his needs. The Frantz firm allowed a $1,425 trade-in on the old auto purchased two years ago and the Fletcher company allowed $1,530.

Accept Pipe Line

Wilkinson objected to accepting the higher bid, but Commissioner William H. Lemmert moved that the bid be accepted and Commissioner James Holmes seconded. Lemmert stated that the trade-in value and the recommendation of Sheriff Muir should be considered.

The board awarded a contract to the low bidder in another instance yesterday.

The bid of $10,735.60 made by the H. and S. Heating Plumbing and Welding Company, Cumberland, for a new water line to Sylvan Retreat was accepted.

The Cumberland Contracting Company, only other bidder, submitted a price of $10,920.

National Delay Noted

J. Monroe Sharer of the H. and S. Company said the 1,800 lineal feet of pipe and two eight-inch fire hydrants would take three or four weeks after material is received. Material, he added, would not be available for 12 to 16 weeks.

Commissioner Lemmert told the board that the county tax rate would be $3.76 on each $100 of assessable property rather than the present $1.67 if the county received no federal or state grants.

The commissioner's statement was incorporated in a report on a meeting of the Western Shore County Commissioners Association which he attended Wednesday at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Also attending were County Assessor Somerville Nicholson and County Clerk James Stevenson.

Frostburg Man's Car Recovered In Penna.

Maryland State Police reported last night that a car stolen in Frostburg June 21 has been recovered in Devon, Pa.

They said the 1946 sedan of Gregory Barrett, Frostburg, was reported to be in good condition.

The occupants, a man and a woman, had driven the car to South Carolina since it was taken at Frostburg, authorities were told.

Sixty Draftees To Enter Army

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4. (AP)—Sixty men—the first group of Maryland draftees in the Korean emergency—will be inducted into the army the week of Aug. 14.

From then on, men will be inducted regularly until the September-October state quota of 1,474 has been filled, Col. H. C. Stanwood, Selective Service director, said today.

Colonel Stanwood said the percentage of men passing their pre-induction mental and physical examinations has now risen to 45 per cent. It was only 30 per cent when the oldest men in the 19-through-25 year age group were being examined.

About 28 per cent of the men are still failing to answer the first call for pre - induction examination, Stanwood said. He warned that if they do not report for active duty when they receive their second notices, their names will be turned over to the United States district attorney for prosecution.

C. L. Dickerhoof Is Found Dead

A retired Celanese worker was found dead yesterday afternoon on Wills Mountain where he had gone yesterday morning to pick huckleberries.

It was the second berry picking fatality this week. On Tuesday, the body of George A. Trost, 73, of 225 Pear Street, was found near Hinkle Road, where he suffered a heart attack while picking berries Monday.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, identified yesterday's victim as Charles Lorenz Dickerhoff, 64, of 1217 Frederick Street.

He said the man died suddenly yesterday morning about 10 o'clock as a result of a heart attack.

Officials said Dickerhoff, a former glass worker, fell face forward when he was stricken and that a pail containing about 2½ gallons of berries he had picked was found nearby.

The body was discovered about 4 p. m. by Roger Hartman, 8, Holland Street extended, who, with a companion, Paul Wolfe, 13, also of Holland Street extended, was berry picking on the same mountain, officials said. Roger notified his mother, Mrs. Grace Hartman, that he had found a man "asleep" in the field and Mrs. Hartman called authorities.

The body was found about 2 miles northwest of Wills Mountain Inn and was carried out with the assistance of State Troopers First Class Jack Browning and Paul Long, who assisted in the investigation.

Dr. Deming said Dickerhoof had been in failing health for some time.

He was born here June 30, 1886, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dickerhoof and was a member of the Improved Order of Red Men here.

Surviving are his wife; three children, Charles, Washington; Mrs. Mildred Patrick Donnelly, also of Washington, and Lewis, this city; two brothers, John and William, both of this city; and four sisters, Mrs. J. R. Oglebay, Mrs. A. P. Wilkinson and Mrs. Kathryn Taylor, all of this city, and Mrs. Anna Best, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Elderly Man Hit On Crossing

A 75-year-old local man was injured last night when he was struck by the B. and O. Ambassador on the Baltimore Street crossing.

The man, Thomas Rowley, 518 Avondale Avenue, was admitted to Memorial Hospital and was reported in a good condition.

The hospital said his injuries included abrasions on both legs and hands and pain in the right knee. He was admitted for X-rays.

Officer Joseph Stitcher, who investigated with Officer Kenneth Morrissey, said Rowley told authorities he misjudged the speed of the oncoming passenger engine as he was crossing the tracks toward Central YMCA about 10 p. m.

Police said witnesses said the man jumped when the train was almost upon him but did not quite make it and that the locomotive struck him on the hip.

The group of berry pickers seen above yesterday discovered the body of Charles Lorenz Dickerhoof, 64, of 1217 Frederick Street, who suffered a heart attack while picking huckleberries on Wills Mountain yesterday morning. They are Roger Hartman (center) who found the body; his mother, Mrs. Grace Hartman, who summoned authorities, and Paul Wolfe (left), young Hartman's companion on the berry picking expedition.

Local Housing Project Plans Will Continue

Cumberland Units Within PHA Quota

Unless the international situation becomes worse, the Korean conflict will not interfere with planning Cumberland's first low-cost housing project, James B. Raines, executive director of the Cumberland Housing Authority, said yesterday.

Raines received word from the Public Housing Administration yesterday that Cumberland's 150-unit project will be among the 30,000 in the country which will be allowed to procede with preliminary plans during the last half of this year.

The release from the PHA said in part:

"Subject to such later adjustments as the international situation may require, the slum clearance and redevelopment program authorized by the Housing Act of 1949 will proceed as planned. The same is true of the public housing program extended by the same Act, except as to the limitation of not more than 30,000, construction starts during the last half of this year as requested by the President."

Raines said there have been applications to begin plans for 41,133 housing units and Cumberland's 150 are among the 30,000 to be permitted.

Complete plans for the Cumberland project must be completed by December 31 of this year, Raines added.

He pointed out that plans for 125 units should be ready for submission to the PHA for approval within three weeks. Preliminary steps for the other 25 will be finished before the end of the year, he said.

The PHA directive said the agency will continue permitting local authorities to go ahead with plans and will enter into loan and grant contracts with them as long as is possible.

However, the public housing program will be examined from time to time to "assure that its activities do not conflict with the larger objectives of the nation."

Roy Tasco Davis Outlines Gubernatorial Platform

Montgomery County GOP Candidate Hits State Extravagance

Senator Roy Tasco Davis of Montgomery County, Republican aspirant to the governorship of Maryland, in a conference here yesterday afternoon with local GOP leaders and the press, set forth a party program and policy calling for more economical government in the state, and greater participation in government by the people.

Senator Davis, in answer to spontaneous questions revealed that he believes:

(1) The sales tax should be reduced and the law greatly modified with some of the funds returned in cash to the counties and incorporated communities.

(2) A Constitutional Amendment should be fostered and passed, providing for Home Rule of all municipalities of 5,000 or more population in the state.

(3) All appointed or elected commissions in the state should be bi-partisan.

(4) A more equitable plan of real estate assessments should be adopted. The practice of pyramiding property values and increasing the tax burden on property owners should cease.

(5) State income tax and state real estate tax should be reduced and discontinued if possible, since the sales tax plan raises enough to offset these.

(6) School boards in the counties should be taken out of politics and not be appointed by the governor. They should be elected. If this is not feasible, then each board should at least be bi-partisan.

(7) State institutions should purchase Maryland coal and other Maryland commodities they use in preference to any other.

(8) The State Planning Commission, or some other state agency, should give adequate assistance to areas of unemployment and should have available programs of public works which could be put into operation as work relief jobs when economic situations warrant.

(9) The state fiscal policy should be one of complete economy, especially at a time when the federal government must place a heavier tax burden on the people to raise funds for defense.

(10) The governor should inaugurate and have prepared a long-range and permanent program of civil defense and internal security to meet any crisis or emergency which might arise in war or peacetime. Such a plan should be in the hands of responsible people.

Senator Davis, who was accompanied here by John Reeves of Montgomery County, his campaign manager, and Al Ady, formerly editor of the Montgomery County Sentinel, his public relations counsel, said he has no "personal or pet peeves" against the administration. He declared however, that he believes many people are being misled on the sales tax question, and that this additional tax burden was not necessary.

In the last year of Governor Harry Nice's administration, he recalled, the state budget was $31,000,000. In the last year of Governor Herbert R. O'Conor's administration the state budget was $48,000,000. But in Governor William Preston Lane's present budget the amount is $143,000,000.

Favors Bond Issues

Senator Davis said he wants to give credit where credit is due and admits that school, road and institution improvements have been made. But he believes it is too great a tax burden to pay cash for capital improvements when these costs could be spread over 20 or 30 years with bond issues and the tax burden reduced perhaps fifty per cent.

He said when the sales tax plan, which he and other Republicans in the Senate and House opposed, was first offered, "our eyes bulged with the proposed picture of road improvements." These improvements were to be made as a result of increases in all kinds of taxes and other shifts of costs, he explained, in a period of five years.

Now it develops, that the picture has changed and only about one-third of the projected improvements will be culminated in the five-year program.

Political Patronage

"The money the state has collected has not been stolen and I am not accusing anyone of theft," Senator Davis asserted. "But I do believe there has been little effort at economy, and I believe many unnecessary political jobs have been created which do not make permanent improvements in the state."

Senator Davis was elected to the State Senate in 1946 after being drafted by the Montgomery County Republicans as their candidate.

Career Diplomat

He has been a life-long Republican and has spent much of his lifetime in public service. He served as American minister and ambassador to Costa Rica and Panama, was mediator in the boundary controversy between Honduras and Guatemala and more recently has visited the Far East, stopping at Korea, Japan and the Islands.

He made this trip in the interest of education and the establishment of schools along with the exchange of students and teachers in American schools and colleges.

Senator Davis plans to remain in the county a couple of days, and last night visited Frostburg and Lonaconing. He said he wants to return here in about two or three weeks as his schedule of touring the state calls for several more visits to Allegany and Garrett counties.

Truman Gives Beall Parkway Bill Pen

President Truman presented to Rep. J. Glenn Beall one of the pens with which he signed the Baltimore-Washington parkway bill on Thursday.

Rep. Beall is a member of the Public Works Committee of the House and the sub-committee on roads.

The only barrier to the project is passage by the Senate of an item in the House-enacted Federal aid highway bill which would make $3,000,000 available for the government's share in the project.

Defense Council Starts Program Of Organization

Director Barger Outlines Procedure

The Advisory Council for Civil Defense of Allegany County held its first meeting last night in the auditorium of the City Hall, and plans were started for a county-wide organization.

William Barger, county director, explained that the program will include a facilities survey of material, equipment, manpower, shelter, etc., which can be put into use and operation in the event of an emergency here or in the area.

Such questions as fire and police protection, public health, medical service, relief and rehabilitation, demolition, engineering and emergency construction, public services such as utilities, power, water, gas, electricity, transportation, communications, and information, must all be coordinated and correlated by the council, Barger explained.

The Advisory Council will probably be the top-flight group in the county defense program, and will have the task of organizing and selecting hundreds of volunteers into the huge operation before the work is fully completed, Barger said.

The responsibility of setting up the Civil Defense plan was delegated to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners with a request by the state Civil Defense director to appoint a county director. After the board appointed Barger, he in turn recommended the names of members of his council and these were approved by the commissioners.

County Board President Charles N. Wilkinson and Commissioner James Holmes attended last night's meeting and both expressed their interest in having the program take shape as speedily as possible.

Other members of the Advisory Council include City Commissioner John J. Long, Fire Chief John Brennan, Police Chief Robert Emmett Flynn, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, Mrs. Lee Witherup, Major Elmer Wall, Henry W. Price, Howard M. Smith, G. Bates Chaires, George M. Hitchcock and F. Allan Weatherholt.

There were several other interested spectators at the meeting last night, including a number of people who want to participate in some phase of the activity as it gets underway.

GOP Gubernatorial Candidate Visits County

Shown second from the left, Senator Davis outlined his platform and discussed phases of it with some of the county Republican leaders, the press and radio. At the left is A. Charles Stewart, candidate for register of wills; next is Senator Davis, Fred B. Driscoll, candidate for the House of Delegates, and Edgar M. Lewis, member of the GOP State Central Committee.

Fletcher Will Protest Action On Auto Bid

Board Accepts Another Bid

C. P. Fletcher, president of the Fletcher Garage, reported last night he has instructed his attorney to protest the action of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday in accepting the bid of the Frantz Oldsmobile Garage for a car to replace one used by Sheriff Edward Muir.

He termed the action in awarding the bid he said was submitted in good faith, to other than the low bidder unfair to the taxpayers and said he had received over 30 telephone calls asking him to protest the action.

The Frantz bid was higher than that of the only other bidder, the Fletcher Garage.

However, Sheriff Muir said the Frantz car better suited his needs. The Frantz firm allowed a $1,425 trade-in on the old auto purchased two years ago and the Fletcher company allowed $1,530.

Accept Pipe Line

Wilkinson objected to accepting the higher bid, but Commissioner William H. Lemmert moved that the bid be accepted and Commissioner James Holmes seconded. Lemmert stated that the trade-in value and the recommendation of Sheriff Muir should be considered.

The board awarded a contract to the low bidder in another instance yesterday.

The bid of $10,735.60 made by the H. and S. Heating Plumbing and Welding Company, Cumberland, for a new water line to Sylvan Retreat was accepted.

The Cumberland Contracting Company, only other bidder, submitted a price of $10,920.

National Delay Noted

J. Monroe Sharer of the H. and S. Company said the 1,800 lineal feet of pipe and two eight-inch fire hydrants would take three or four weeks after material is received. Material, he added, would not be available for 12 to 16 weeks.

Commissioner Lemmert told the board that the county tax rate would be $3.76 on each $100 of assessable property rather than the present $1.67 if the county received no federal or state grants.

The commissioner's statement was incorporated in a report on a meeting of the Western Shore County Commissioners Association which he attended Wednesday at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Also attending were County Assessor Somerville Nicholson and County Clerk James Stevenson.

Frostburg Man's Car Recovered In Penna.

Maryland State Police reported last night that a car stolen in Frostburg June 21 has been recovered in Devon, Pa.

They said the 1946 sedan of Gregory Barrett, Frostburg, was reported to be in good condition.

The occupants, a man and a woman, had driven the car to South Carolina since it was taken at Frostburg, authorities were told.

Spectators also will get to see a specially rigged stunt plane which was assembled to replace one which crashed Wednesday at the airport.

The pilot, Jack Huston, Charlotte, N. C., was unhurt and will perform his special stunt of landing the plane on a specially rigged top of a convertible automobile.

Sixty Draftees To Enter Army

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4. (AP)—Sixty men—the first group of Maryland draftees in the Korean emergency—will be inducted into the army the week of Aug. 14.

Colonel Stanwood said the percentage of men passing their pre-induction mental and physical examinations has now risen to 45 per cent. It was only 30 per cent when the oldest men in the 19-through-25 year age group were being examined.

About 28 per cent of the men are still failing to answer the first call for pre-induction examination, Stanwood said. He warned that if they do not report for active duty when they receive their second notices, their names will be turned over to the United States district attorney for prosecution.
